No surprise candidates for election

MARY FOLEY

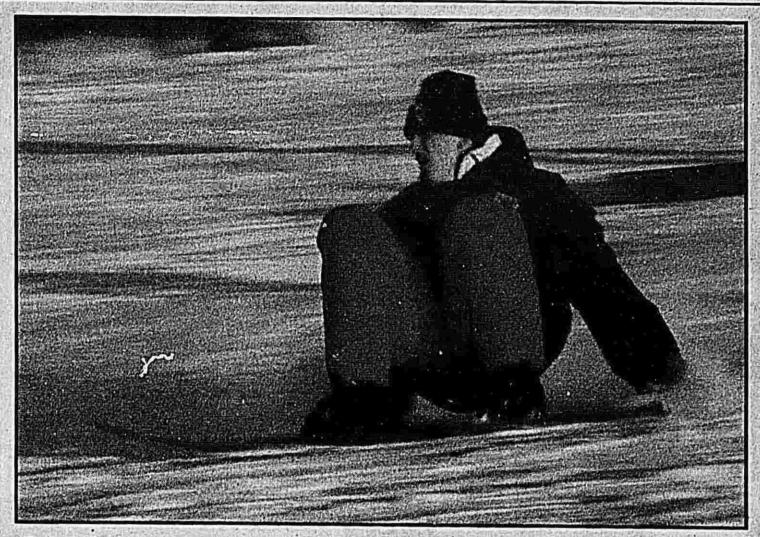

Staff Reporter

There are no surprises for the Village trustee elections this year. Only four candidates returned petitions for the available spots.

Three spots on the Antioch Village Board are up for grabs in the April election. Trustees Donald Amundsen, Wayne Foresta, and Mabel Lou Weber all have terms expiring in 1995. And, Trustee Amundsen has decided to retire from the board.

Monday was the deadline for the return of the petitions. Only four petitions were returned. Foresta, Weber, former Antioch Village Board member Larry Hanson and Taso Maravella will be on the April ballot.

Amundsen, who has been on the board for years, has decided it is time to retire. His decision is not based, in any way, on problems with the current board, he said.

Lake St. traffic to be studied

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Public Service Committee has plans to undertake a traffic study of Lake Street, which is west of Route 59 in the unincorporated section of Antioch Township. Two weeks ago it was the site of a traffic fatality.

A St. Peter School student was struck and killed when he crossed the street while waiting for a bus. The day of the accident was extremely foggy and the driver was not able to see Richard Ward, age

"As a result of the accident, and a request by Mr. Ward, a traffic study will be done," said County Board Member Judy Martini. "The study will look at lowering the speed limit or possibly adding a stop sign."

While the accident itself was not a result of excessive speed, in fact the driver was not cited for any violation, the accident has brought to focus the possible need to lower the speed limit on that particular street. And, many residents have been complaining about excessive speeding in subdivision areas.

Dog to wear monitor in murder mystery

MARY FOLEY

The Lake County Sheriff's Department has decided to monitor "Friendly," the German shepherd that located the dismembered legs just east of Antioch Township.

"It's definite," said Detective Bob Maze. A transmitter will be placed on the dog's collar while investigators keep track of the dog's route on a map grid. Maze said the transmitter is on loan from the Illinois Department of Conservation.

It has been over 10 days since the family pet brought home a severed human leg after a morning romp. Sheriff's Department investigators combed the area bounded by Route 173 and Stateline Road off Hunt Club Road.

However, because of the rugged terrain and heavy snowfall, police found no leads. Then, on Jan. 22, "Friendly" brought home the left leg of the unknown victim.

Using the monitoring device, police can track the dog which will hopefully lead investigators to either the rest of the body or to vital clues to help them solve the mystery.

Based on forensic information, a description of the victim is now available. By using measurements of the two legs, pathologists estimate the victim was a female in her late teens or early 20s, approximately 130 pounds, between 5 feet 3 inches and 5 feet 7 inches tall, with auburn or light brown hair.

New superintendent picked for Antioch High

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

After a special board meeting of the Antioch Community High School Board of Education on Saturday, a new superintendent has been selected. While the final contracts have not yet been signed, Dennis Hockney has been tagged for the top school spot.

"We did vote to extend him an offer," said ACHS Board President Laurel Dahl. "He did accept."

Hockney, age 51, is the current superintendent of schools at the Madeira City School District, outside of Cincinnati, Ohio. He was formerly a principal in Tinley Park, Illinois:

"We are looking forward to getting him here," said Dahl. "We are excited about him and what he will bring with him his expertise and knowledge. It will be great."

ACHS teacher's contract all but signed

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Much to the relief of Antioch Community High School administrators, teachers, staff, and parents, the teachers' contract is all-but signed. While the issue was removed from the agenda of the Jan. 19 regular Board of Education meeting, the lengthy negotiating process is essentially over.

"All issues are pretty much settled," said interim school Superintendent Darrrell Dick. As salary schedules are finalized, the long awaited contract should be complete.

The teachers had been without a contract since last summer. Yet both sides had steadfastly maintained no strike was in the offing.

have been smooth. During the summer, it seemed the discussions between the Antioch Community High School Board of Education and the Antioch Community High School Education Association were moving along nicely.

However, union officials announced the negotiations were broken off on Sept. 11. According to a press release from the union, the negotiation failure was a result of the insistence of the school board to continue without a mediator.

Still, negotiations continued throughout the dismal atmosphere of the Round Lake Unit School District strike, which was the second longest strike in Illinois. But, unlike the neighbors to the south, District 117 succeeded to forge an agreement without resorting to any extreme action.

Details of the agreement should be available soon.

Tickets available at the door.

Project to have new owner-developer

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Tiffany Ridge-Woods of Antioch project is being sold to Diamond Development. The 150-unit planned development will be built on property located on the corner of Tiffany Road and North Street.

The sale is quite complicated. The owners of the property, Herman, Helberger and Herman, an Illinois Partnership, expect to close on the sale with Wood Creek Development Corporation Wednesday, Jan. 25.

Wood Creek is then planning to turn the property around immediately and sell to Diamond Development, which is a cooperative effort of KLM Builders and Stephen Thelen.

The information of the sale came to light during a public hearing Jan. 16 when Wood Creek petitioned the Antioch Village Board to amend the annexation agreement. Apparently, there was a minor error on the legal description of the property.

One village trustee, Wayne Foresta, seemed aggravated by the failure of Wood Creek to inform the board of the planned sale at a board meeting last year, At that time, Wood Creek asked and received an extension on the deadline for final plat approval to April 1997. Development representatives told the board the change was needed to secure financing for the project.

"At the time you presented this to the board," asked Foresta, "was it your intention to turn it around?"

Green, a representative of the developer, told the board at the time, Wood Creek had planned to complete the project. "We ran our of time," he said.

"I expected something like this to happen," replied Foresta. Foresta added he was pleased that KLM would be taking over the project. "I know I am happier now with the KLM takeover."

According to Village Planner Robert Silhan, the new owners will not substantially alter the building plans. "It is my understanding they will not change the development plan," he said. "And, if they do, it will not be a substantial change."

"I think we can do a great job for Antioch," said Stephen Thelen. "We'll have control at the local level. Kim (Myers of KLM) and I have come up with a pretty good idea to get this done."

The development is expected to consist of 155 homes in the $150,000 price range.

Unit district question impacts board members

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake Villa Unit School District issue, which was cleared for the spring ballot last week, will impact the position of several school board members in Antioch. If the new district is approved, Antioch will lose board members in two ways.

Joanne Osmond has filed her petition to be placed on the ballot as a school board member of the new district. According to Antioch Community High School Board President Laurel Dahl state law does not permit dual positions on different school boards.

"If all of this passes, she would no longer be on the District 117 board," explained Dahl.

However, other board members will be impacted another way. If the new district is approved by voters, two other ACHS board members would be required to leave because they reside in the proposed district limits. "There will be three people we have to replace," said Dahl.

Board members Rosemary Lipps, Larry Peterson and Osmond also live in the impacted area. That would leave three openings on the board.

Fortunately for District 34, no such problems exist. "We have no board members who live in the proposed district," said District 34 Superintendent Dr. Daniel Burke.

St. Peter School to hold open house and registration

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

An open house and registration will be held at St. Peter School in Antioch. The school includes grades K-12, and features a full day kindergarten and after school program.

Principal Sharon Henriksen and faculty invite all parents and parishioners to attend the open house on Sunday, Feb. 5, after 9:30 a.m. Mass and will continue to 1 p.m. Children's work will be displayed in each homeroom as well as throughout the school.

Registration for the '95-'96 school year will take place durthe open house. Newcomers as well as those presently attending the school are encouraged to register early. According to Henriksen, some classes are already close to capacity.

Parents are reminded registration is not official until birth certificates or baptismal certificates are presented. In addition, those enrolling in Kindergarten must be 5 yearsold on or before Sept. 1, 1995. First-graders must be 6 years of age or older by Sept. 1. Registration for all families includes a non-refundable $25 per family fee.

During the open house and registration, the St. Peter School Family Association will provide refreshments including coffee and rolls. Members will welcome parents and provide information about the organization.

Conference day

Parent-teacher conferences have been scheduled for Jan. 30 at District 34 schools, which include Antioch Upper Grade, Antioch Grade School, Petty, and Oakland. Students will not have school that day and not every student/parent will be scheduled for a conference. Parents interested in having a conference should call the respective school.

Day off

Good news for students of Antioch Community High School, there will be no school on Feb. 12. This school holiday celebrates the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

Send in those labels

In an effort to generate more money for Antioch Grade School, parents are asked to send in UPC codes from General Mills cereal boxes, 7-ounce sizes or larger. The school will receive 25 cents for each one.

Catholic school week

Jan. 29 kicks off Catholic School Week. In honor of the event. St. Peter School will feature a volleyball game between students and staff.

St. Peter School open house

Open house and registration for St. Peter School will be held Sunday, Feb. 5 following the 9:30 a.m. Mass. Parents are invited to visit classrooms and see samples of student work. The school features grades K-8, with a full day kindergarten.

Scholarship available at CLC

A $1,000 scholarship is available through the Irl Marshall Service Recognition Grant Program for a College of Lake Co. student involved in community service. The scholarship was established to honor the late Irl Marshall, former chairman of the board at Duraclean Int'l. in Deerfield.

The grant monies may be used for two consecutive semesters ($500) each) for tuition, fees and books. Candidates must plan to enroll at CLC at least half time and submit an essay describing how they have served the community in the past, how they intend to contribute in the future and how a CLC education will enhance that contribution.

Applications are available in the financial aid office, B-114. The deadline to apply is Feb. 14. For information, call 223-3610.

ACHS senior to go to Washington

Antioch Community High School senior Dino Katris, of Antioch, has been selected to attend the National Young Leaders Conference held in Washington DC.

The conference is a leadership development program for high school students demonstrating leadership potential and academic merit. Katris will be among 350 outstanding scholars attending the confer-

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today." Those attending will have an opportunity to meet and interact with key leaders from all three branches of government.

The conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a nonprofit and nonpartisan educational organization. The group was founded in 1985 and is committed to fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential.

"The conference provides the opportunity for students like Dino to distinguish themselves as tomorrow's leaders," said John Hines, council executive director. "Scholars not only gain knowledge and experience in the nation's capital, they leave with a sense of accomplishment and an increased ability to face the challenges of the future."

Katris will participate in a number of activities during the six-day conference. A role playing activity will have the students acting as president and Congress during a simulated crisis with North Korea. Another activity, which will wind up the conference, has students assuming the of United States roles Representatives debating, amending and voting on proposed legislation on crime.

Other highlights of the conference include welcoming remarks from the floor of the House of Representatives and a panel discussion with prominent journalists at the National Press Club. Students will visit foreign embassies and receive policy briefings from senior government officials. Katris may also meet with Illinois officials in Washington to discuss important issues facing Antioch and the nation.

Girls invited to science, math workshop

Registration materials are now available for the second annual "Expanding Your Horizons in Science and Mathematics" conference for middle school and high school girls. The event will be held at Barat College in Lake Forest on Saturday, March 11.

The conference will feature nearly 40 hands-on workshops led by women who work in science and math. Among the workshops are "Honey, I Shrank the Cell," presented by an electron microscopist at Abbott Laboratories and "Paleontology: Bones, Rocks and Playing in the Dirt," led by a paleontologist from the University of Chicago. Other sessions include "A Day in the Life of a Veterinarian," "Astronomy is Looking Up," "What Do Engineers Do?" and "Careers in Biological Sciences."

Several hundred girls, parents and teachers from northern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin are expected to participate. The goal of the conference is to encourage girls to continue their studies in math and science to broaden their future career choices.

The registration fee of $12.50 per participant includes workshop materials, refreshments and a conference T-shirt. To request a conference brochure, contact your school science or math teacher, or Bill Butterworth or Jan Eardley at Barat College, 234-3000, ext. 371. The deadline for registration is Friday, Feb. 24.

Battery arrest

Joel L. Miller, 28, of Antioch, was arrested for battery on Jan. 21 after a verbal dispute escalated to a physical fight at the Sunset Motel. Miller is accused of punching a woman in the face and pushing her to the ground. Miller was taken to bond court in Waukegan.

Craig D. Case, 29, of Antioch was charged with battery on Jan. 22. He allegedly pushed the victim causing her to fall and strike her head when she refused to give him money for alcohol. He was released on bond.

Jorge L. Martinez, 25, of Round Lake Park, was arrested for battery and disorderly conduct on Jan. 16 after becoming involved in a fight over a woman on the corner of Main and Orchard streets. He was released on bond.

Warrant arrests

Steven F. Sabella, 37, of Trevor, Wisconsin, was arrested on Jan. 22 on an outstanding warrant for DUI. Sabella was picked up after he was observed driving his car with a revoked drivers license. Sabella was charged with driving while revoked and operation of a vehicle with a suspended registration. He was released on bond for those offenses and transported to Lake County Jail for the outstanding warrant.

Jaimes E. Flumencio, 52, of Fox Lake, was arrested on an outstanding warrant for obstructing a police officer on Jan. 23. Flumencio was stopped after he took off when police approached his parked car. Flumencio was unable to produce a drivers license and was also charged with driving without a valid license and operation of an uninsured vehicle. He also had, in his possession, false identification cards.

Farmhouse fire remains under probe

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Gurnee Fire Department personnel continue to investigate the cause of a fire which gutted a farmhome along Route 45.

"We do not know if gas was involved, but the neighbors said they smelled something which they thought was gas," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said.

More than a dozen area fire departments responded to the call, which first came in at 8:51 a.m. on Jan. 20. Because of the lack of area fire hydrants, tankers were at a premium. Participating departments with tanker trucks included: Newport, 2,500 gallons; Grayslake, 4,000 gallons; Bonnie Brook, 1,500 gallons; Lake Villa, 3,000 gallons; Fox Lake, 3,000 gallons and Countryside, Antioch and Libertyville.

A ladder truck was also used, as it was quickly determined that the building was unsafe to enter.

The family living at the residence, one mile north of Route 132, the Femesters, were staying with neighbors.

"There was a lot of fire upon our arrival in the south and west," McGrath said.

Strong winds blew the fire toward the firemen and three were injured. Gurnee Lt. Barry Hemby was transported to St. leased after suffering burns; Steve Orusa later became ill but was treated and released and Chris Koehn was treated and released for burns.

Firemen initially thought there was a 16-year-old daughter trapped inside. "When firemen believe there is someone trapped inside, they always make an extra effort to get them out," McGrath said.

The girl, who attends Grayslake Community High School, was found to be safe when her mom was contacted by Lake County Sheriff's Depart-

"The home could have been Therese Medical Center and re- of balloon construction," Mc-Grath said.

> "There was a lot of heavy timber," Hemby stated.

Traffic was impacted as Routes 132 and 45 intersection was blocked by Lake County Sheriff's Department personnel. The fire was declared out at about 11 a.m.

The property, owned by Ronald Galowich was the site of another fire this summer. A grill placed too close to a barn set the barn on fire.

Grass Lake School math team is hard at work

Learning is fun

The Grass Lake School Math Team is hard at work under the leadership of Kym Krocza, the junior high math teacher and sixth grade homeroom supervisor. The team meets each week on Thursday morning from 7:15 to 8:15 a.m. and they are now busy preparing for several math competitions scheduled for 1995. The team will compete against other junior high math teams in the Lake County area.

Competitions are held at Antioch Community High School and this is the math team's first time to compete in the Math Counts Competition. The children prepare for the contests by doing a lot of different types of problem solving.

Emmons School

The following Kindergarten through fifth grade Emmons students earned the most cheerful award for the month of December: Kira Haley, Jereme Olsen, Shannon Trulzsch, Ed Madriles, Kim Ruggles, Christine Jensen, Taylor Groth, Deanna Durley and Kristen Kuceyeski. Middle school STARS were Abby Thomas, Mike Bennecks and Justin Cashmore.

The beautiful new addition at Emmons School is now completely under roof. The completion date is still set for the beginning of March—cross fingers.

Early spring?

Geese, geese everywhere! I feel like a little old pioneer woman judging the weather by the visible animal signs around me.

As I let our dogs out on Jan. 16, I heard the loud racket overhead of an approaching flock of geese. I glanced up and there they came over the house in three large V formations. There must have been 400 of them.

I was always under the belief that Canadian geese migrate to the south as the cold weather approaches. I always thought their migration back north took place in March or April. Yet there they were, flying loudly overhead on Jan. 16. This has to mean something.

In my opinion it means an early spring is in store for us. Actually, knock wood, we haven't had much of a winter at all-only time will tell. Let's hope the presence of these magnificent birds means Lizard will be using her pool come May!

What's his name?

As we sat in our activity circle at Camp Crayon, little Anita Hurmis wanted to tell me something about "the little boy sitting next to the little girl wearing the little dress." I indicated that I knew to whom she was referring, but she seemed to be mesmerized by the girl's outfit and simply could not stop describing it in detail.

After she said, "the little dress," she went on, "with the ruffic at the bottom." Again I told her I knew who she meant. She persisted, "with the long sleeves." I said, "Yes," she continued, "with the pictures on it." "Yes," again, "the black and red dress," "Yes, yes," I replied.

She was on a roll, "The dress that looks like sweater material." I repeated both of the children's names to her. Finally the purpose of her description was made clear as she delivered this message, "Well, that boy is talking!"

I thanked her for her vigilance and thus a column tidbit was born-"Out of the Mouths of Babes!"

Hello

I recently had the pleasant opportunity to talk with Jerry Haling, a former friend and Grass Lake School classmate of my daughter Barbara Filips. Jerry recently relocated back to the Antioch area. He filled me in on bits . and pieces of his life over the past 10 years and proudly brags about his beautiful 4-year-old daughter (and rightfully so).

Welcome back, Jerry, it was nice talking with you and remember to call me with a friendly news tidbit from time to time.

Another hello

I would like to extend a very special hello to Billy Dunfrund, whom I recently met in the strangest way. If there are any Dunfrund family members residing in or near the Antioch area who are reading this particular column tidbit and would like further information concerning little Billy, feel free to give me a call.

Ghost/angel

Little Jay Pierce of the Camp Crayon program proudly informed me that his grandpa was an angel in heaven. I thought what a nice way to explain death to a child. However, little Amy O'Quinn overheard Jay and I talking and chimed in with a version of her own.

"Miss Liz, when people die they don't become angels. Their bodies go in the ground and then they turn into ghosts." I had no comeback and still don't, except to say that I like the angel concept much better. Once again, out of the mouths of babes.

Come to think of it, maybe they are both right. Wasn't there an old song titled "Ghost Angel"?

That's it

Next week my February birthday list, etc. Till then, I'll be waiting for your call with your special and personal news tidbits. I love kid stories, animal stories and bloopers. So if you have any to share, give me a call.

Event organizers to learn about alcohol abuse

Organizers of community or church events at which alcohol is served are invited to a program to help promote responsible use of alcohol by adults. The roundtable will be held on Saturday, March 11 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Lake County Fighting Back office, 31979 N. Fish Lake Rd., Round Lake. Light lunch will be served following the program.

The program is sponsored by the Public Policy Action Team of the Lake County Fighting Back Project, a community partnership to prevent the abuse of alcohol and other drug abuse.

"The Public Policy Action Team conducted a survey of festival organizers and found a large number were interested in obtaining information about making their events more familyfriendly," said Sally Thoren, Action Team chair.

"Our goal is to help organizers develop policies which encourage responsible alcohol use by adults. Many festival organizers want to avoid behavior which creates unsafe conditions or gives the wrong message to young people about alcohol use," said Thoren.

The fee for the program is $5, which covers the cost of printed materials and lunch.

-Shop Antioch Keeping busy indoors

The cold weather and snow causes many of us to stay indoors through much of the winter. If you like to stay inside during these cold, snowy days, here are a few suggestions for indoor activities.

Winter can be an excellent time for some interior remodeling. Painting a room a new color can lift your spirits and give your home a new look. True Value, on Orchard St., has a wide selection of indoor paints and supplies. Stop by for some color samples and put your interior decorating skills to use.

Don't forget to check windows and doors for drafts. There are various kits and supplies available at Ace Hardware that will help prevent those drafts. These are good for a quick fix to an annoying problem.

Thinking about new curtains for your home: If you're handy with a needle, stop by Ben Franklin and look through bolts of fabrics perfect for window dressing. Their staff is always happy to answer questions and give suggestions. If you tend to draw blood every time you pick up a needle, look into some custom window treatments from Antioch Wallcovering and ask for an in-home consultation.

Indoor hobbies are very important this time of year. People enjoy music, crafts, pets,

Mental Health Assn. donates check

The Lake County Society for Human Development, 3441' Sheridan Rd., Zion, was pleased to receive a generous donation of $2,500 from the Antioch Mental Health Assn. President Doris Veith presented the check to LC-SHD Executive Director Al Taylor at the agency concluding a tour led by Arlene Demb. These monies will be used to replace household furnishings lost or destroyed in the explosion of one of the agency's group homes in May 1994.

exercising, gardening and even planning parties.

Playing an instrument is both enjoyable and challenging. If you're a bit rusty on the old guitar or band instrument, call Lakes Area Music and sign up for some lessons, or maybe treat yourself to a new music book.

Pets are fun and also require a lot of time and care. An aquarium is enjoyable with all the different species of fish and types of tanks available. Fresh water or marine water is probably the first decision you'd need to make. For complete information and an extensive selection of supplies, stop by Pinetree Pet Shop.

Gardening is a favorite past time of many people. Some like to decide months ahead which types of gardens to plant and even will plant seedlings indoors to get a jump on spring. Floral Acres specializes in "gardening advice by gardeners," give them a call to discuss your gardening needs.

Surprise parties are fun and usually take lots of planning. If someone close to you is approaching a "landmark" birthday or anniversary, make it a party they'll always remember. Joanne from J.J. Blinkers can offer suggestions and has a selection of gift items appropriate for those occasions.

Remember, spring will be here soon. To feel good about spring, it's important to keep in shape throughout the winter. Visit Antioch Schwinn for a wide array of exercise equipment and BJ's Sporting Goods for sports equipment that makes keeping in shape easy and fun.

Heating devices may be dangerous

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Fire Department would like to warn residents to use care in the use of portable heaters, wood stoves, and fireplaces. As the temperatures begin to drop again, the use of the devices are increased. And, with increased use comes increased dangers.

In Illinois during 1993, home heating devices including electric heaters, kerosene heaters, wood stoves and fireplaces were linked to nearly 700 fires, 18 deaths, and millions of dollars in damage. To avoid becoming a statistic, the fire department recommends regular maintenance and following manufacturers' directions carefully.

"You should never leave a space heater unattended," said Fire Captain Rich Frankson. "They should be used to supple- electric heater. ment heat, not a mainstay.'

Frankson said while this year alternative heating units have not been a problem in Antioch, there were some fires last year. However, the mild winter this year may be helping more than anything.

Maintenance is a key issue, said Frankson. "Springtime comes and they put them in the garage," explains Frankson. He said when the winter weather comes, residents often just bring the heaters back into the house without doing any kind of maintenance.

Some basic tips to keep in mind include following the manufacturer's instructions for operation and maintenance. Check gas heaters for gas line punctures and leaking valves and connectors. Make sure wiring service is sufficient for the operation of an

Be careful with the placement of the heaters. One problem, according to Frankson is, "People placing these heaters near combustibles and leaving them." Keep combustible materials at least 3 feet away from space heaters.

Wood stoves and fireplaces carry their own precautions. Never burn green wood, paper, or trash. Use a large enough screen to cover the opening and top the chimney with a spark guard. Additionally, remember regular cleaning and maintenance is necessary for the safe operation of stoves and fireplaces.

-Park Happenings-Dance recital planned at high school

Dad/daughter night

Dads are invited to spend Feb. 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. with their special date, with an evening of dancing and games. To sign up, call or stop by the village hall. Cost is $10 per couple, and $3 for any additional daughters. Space is limited, so sign up early.

Boating safety class

In cooperation with the Ill. Dept. of Conservation, the Village of Antioch will sponsor a boating safety class on March 18. A certificate will be issued by the IDOC to persons who successfully complete this course. This is mandatory for persons 12 through 17 who want to operate a power boat without supervision. Books and Instruction are included in the registration fee.

Dance recital

Kim Kalla Dancers, Gus Giordano's Dance Center and the village's own Studio One Dance Troupe will be among the talents on Feb. 4 at the Antioch High School auditorium. Show times are 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Proceeds from the event will go to the Easter Seals Society of Metropolitan Chicago. Tickets are available at the village hall or the Antioch Parks and Recreation office.

Young Rembrandts

The second session of the Young Rembrandts' creative drawing program will begin on Feb. 17 at the Scout House. Space is available in the three- to five-year-old, six- to eight-year-old and nine- to 12year-old classes. Registration at the village hall.

Geo-Karis bill cracks down on snowmobilers

Snowmobilers in Illinois who mix alcohol or drugs with the sport will have to submit to the same testing as those operating a boat, according to legislation introduced by State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Geo-Karis said Senate Bill 70 amends the Snowmobile Registration and Safety Act by providing for implied consent to blood, breath and urine tests to determine the amount of alcohol and/or other drugs in a snowmobile operator's blood.

"Reckless snowmobilers have been drinking and then operating snowmobiles for too long," said Sen. Geo-Karis. "They are endangering their lives and the lives of others. We've had many accidents in Lake County which can be directly attributed to drunkdriving by snowmobilers."

Refusal to submit to an alcohol test will result in a minimum of a 2-year suspension of operating privileges. If a drug test reveals a concentration of blood alcohol of more than :10 or any amount of drug resulting from unlawful use, the operator will be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by suspension of operating privileges for one year and a fine up to $1,000. If the operator has a previous conviction or the offense results in great bodily harm to another, the operator will be guilty of a Class Four felony, punishable by one to three years in prison. Finally, if the offense results in death to another, the operator will be guilty of a Class Three felony which is punishable by two to five years in prison. If convicted of a felony, the operator can be fined up to $10,000 and will see their operating privileges revoked for five years.

"Snowmobile accidents are on the rise," said Sen. Geo-Karis. "This legislation is designed to protect bystanders and those who safely operate snowmobiles from the few that abuse that privilege by using alcohol and drugs."

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Tiny Calvary Christian School Band has earned the right to be one of only 10 musical groups to be represented in a 3rd Annual Music Education Day at the state capitol.

The 26-member band will perform on March 23. The band is the only full-band in the state which qualified for the event.

"Who would have expected something like this with a small school like this," said Karen Kurtz, band director. "I was so exited when I heard the news, they they accused me of setting off the fire alarm."

Excellence has been a tradition for the band. The 1991 band qualified to the state competition. A piano player has received a scholarship. About 1/3 of the band has private lessons to improve their playing ability.

"They played well enough to be selected. It has been a special year. They are a great bunch of kids," Kurtz said.

Kurtz said the band, a combination of students from grades 6-12, has been improving.

In addition to band honors the school took the conference title in soccer and Kurtz was named to Who's Who Among Teachers.

To qualify, the band made a 10-minute tape of their music and sent it into the Illinois Music Educators Association (IMEA). The band is practicing for a 20-minute performance at the Hall of Flags. They are scheduled to play at 1 p.m.

"On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Music Educators Association, it is my pleasure to inform you that your musical ensemble has been selected to perform at the thirdannual Music Education Day at the capitol. Although there were many outstanding ensembles applying, we could only accept ten," said Richard Curlee, president of IMEA in a letter to the school.

Kurtz confessed she had a hard time bringing herself to open the letter. "It wasn't too thick or too thin."

The school must pay for the expenses of the trip. To that end, students will be selling candy in an effort to finance the trip.

The band members are: Jennifer Wittbrot, Lisa Langenberg, Alysson Sward, Tracey Kurtz, Patricia Waldenstrom, Samantha Spohn, Kim Dahl, Jason Dahl. David Lagenberg, Pam Merkh, Chad Gruzalski, Jon Novak, Erin August, Dawn Crowther, Mike Pograva, Jeremy Henson, Nick Kurtz, Dominic Lobono, James Legenberg, Joy Crowther, Tiffany Henson, Buddy Hyllberg, Cherie Bradshaw, Nick Perna and Kristina Lott.

Reception held for State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis

The public is invited to a reception to honor State Senator Adeline J. Geo-Karis on Thursday, Feb. 16 from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

The guests of honor will be State Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka and Senate President James "Pate" Philip.

"Salute to Auntie Geo" will be held at the Country Squire banquet room on Rte. 120, slightly west of Rte. 45 in Grayslake. Hors d'oeuvres will be served, and there will be a cash bar. The event chairmen are Tim Osmond of Antioch and Suzy Simpson of Warren Township.

Tickets for the event are $25 each and can be ordered by phoning 395-2500 or 746-1288.

Bowl for Kids' Sake prepares to strike

Lake Co.'s biggest bowling party is taking place again. People are teaming up to make a difference in the life of a child from a single parent family by participating in "Bowl for Kids' Sake."

The purpose of Bowl for Kids' Sake is to raise funds to support adult volunteer recruitment, screening and professional supervision of Big Brothers/Big Sisters that are matched with kids from single parent homes needing a special friend.

On March 12 at Hawthorne Lanes in Vernon Hills, and on March 19 at Hawthorne Lanes and Brunswick Lakehurst Lanes in Waukegan, starting at noon or 2:15 p.m., the bowling party—sponsored by Washington National Ins. Co., IMC Fertilizer, HOT 102.3/WXLC FM, Buehler Ltd., Baxter Healthcare Corp. and American Airlines—will be in full swing.

Be a part of this event and help match a child in need who is waiting for a Big Brother or Big Sister. The bowling is free—just collect at least $60 in pledges to help reach the $94,000 fundraising goal. All proceeds raised stay right here in Lake Co.

Every bowler will receive an event T-shirt. For every $60 in pledges turned in, an entry is received for a grand prize drawing for two round-trip airline tickets for anywhere in the continental U.S.

A special Corporate Challenge will take place during the event companies can send as many teams as they would like to compete for first, second or third place traveling trophies to be awarded to top corporate fundraisers.

League bowlers can get involved, too. A League Bowl-a-Thon runs in the month of* February at Hawthorne Lanes in Vernon Hills. To participate, call for pledge sheets and instructions

New this year is a High School Challenge. High schools from the area will form teams and compete for a traveling trophy awarded to the top high school fundraisers. ## See Me For Your 1995 Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average. Advertising is news-about products and services.
Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Waterway officials request funding

On a "bring home the bacon" mission for the Fox Waterway Agency, officials spent a day in Subsequent to a very favorable Chicago. meeting with legislators in Springfield in December, joint efforts have been underway to obtain the extra funding necessary to maximize the environment clean-up work the agency has proposed.

William Dam, chairman, along with director Ron Baker and executive director Karen Kabbes brought along several state and federal studies outlying the scope of restoration work recommended. The recent U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' Environmental Impact Study recommended boating areas be dredged to six feet. A 1980 state study indicated that the needed dredging would be more than 24,000,000 cubic yards to have 80 percent of the lakes' area at least six feet deep.

"We cannot make up for 50 years of neglect on $30 boat sticker fees," stated Chairman Dam. Director Baker explained how important boating is to the recreational economy in the area and the amount of revenues that are generated for the State of Illinois.

Kirk Brown, secretary of IDOT; Donald Vonnahme, director of IDOT-DOWR; John Comerio, deputy director of IDOC; and several of their support staff attended the session.

Executive Dir. Kabbes explained the 1995-96 dredging plan as well as the five-year plan and costs. Based on cost projectiles, the agency requires an additional $300,000 per year to stay ahead of the constant silting problems. The report was formally received and a follow-up response by the Dept. of Transportation is scheduled in two weeks.

The afternoon was spent at the U.S. Army Corps office. Lt. Colonel Slockbower will hand carry proposals to expedite the Grass Lake restoration projects to Vicksburg.

The Corps' proposed flood control gates at the Algonquin Dam are moving forward. The agency has scheduled a presentation by the local Corps on the proposal March 10. The dredging plan, EIS and several other subjects were discussed.

Plans for chamber craft shows in the making

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce is planning two arts and craft shows this summer. One show is proposed for June and the other for September.

However, Antioch Village Board members voiced concerns about the proposed location of the shows along with the need to hold two shows.

Instead of the Williams Park site used for the shows in previous years, the Chamber is proposing to hold the shows on Toft Avenue, with two other separate sites at the municipal lot by Flo's Beauty Shop and the west end of Piggly Wiggly parking lot.

"I am concerned we are tying up the downtown area too many weekends," said Trustee Don Amundsen. "Where does this end? Do we have to have something every weekend?"

The purpose of the arts and crafts shows are to bring people into Antioch for shopping," explained Antioch Downtown Development Director Claude LeMere.

LeMere is hoping to attract 600-700 craft vendors for the events.

He estimates 100 vendors could be accommodated at the Toft Street location.

Other trustees voiced concerns about using the lot at Flo's. "It is one of the busiest lots," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger.

LeMere agreed to contact area merchants about the plan, and in particular, about the use of parking lots.

of the last school year. The new superintendent will be facing a large number of challenges including the possible loss of over 50 percent of the student body to the proposed Lake Villa Unit School District.

"I think it is a great opportunity. Antioch is a place that is growing and has an unlimited future," said Hockney. "I look forward to being a part of that."

Hockney received his bachelor of arts and masters from Ball State University. He received his doctorate from Indiana University. Hockney has been married for 29 years. "To the same woman," he jokingly added. He has two children, Jennifer, 25, and Becky, age 20.

However, the addition of a stop sign on Lake Street may have a greater impact on slowing traffic down on the road and possibly reducing accidents. The traffic study will investigate the number of accidents which have taken place on the road.

Candidates pursue seat on unit district

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

The candidates for the proposed Lake Villa Unit School District have come forward.

There are eight candidates and five of them are board members on existing school boards. One of them is from Antioch High School District, two are from Lake Villa Elementary District and two are from Millburn Elementary District.

Two members are from the Committee of Ten, the supporters of the unit district — Joanne Osmond, president of the committee and Antioch High School Heneberry, vice president of the committee.

Craig Kressner, board president of Lake Villa Elementary District, and Bill Nadelhoffer, board member, are on the ballot.

Gene Gracey, Millburn school board president, and Malena Schroeder, board member, also filed for the unit school board.

Paul Howitzer and Donald Mertic are also vying for a seat on the seven-member board.

The proposed K-12 unit district would cover most of Lake Villa Township including all of Lake Villa Elementary District, and take portions of Millburn and board member, and Joyce . Antioch Grade School Districts. It would encompass portions of Antioch, Grant and Grayslake High School districts.

If the decision by Judge Steven Walter to uphold State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo's decision to allow the unit district on the ballot isn't appealed, the unit district is expected to be on the April ballot.

If the issue is on the ballot, residents will vote on if they want a unit district, if they want to approve a $39.5 million building bond issue, and they will choose a school board.

Because Gracey, Heneberry, Howitzer, Mertic, Osmond and Schroeder all filed at 8 a.m. on Jan. 16, a lottery will be held to determine ballot position.

Park board close to deal for Fawn Run

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Lindenhurst Park District Board is nearing agreement with Westfield Homes on a developer donation for the proposed Fawn Run subdivision.

The park board and Westfield agree on the park donation and a cash donation but some issues remain. Westfield has offered to provide a 13-acre park site and a small, one acre-site in another section of the proposed subdivision.

"We're pleased with the open space and the size of the park," said Tom Lippert, park district director.

Lippert said the park would provide a unique opportunity for a larger park in that area of the village and for more playing fields.

As part of an agreement, Westfield has offered to provide an escrow account to help develop the park. The first funds would be used to hire an architect to make plans and provide schematic drawings for the site, according to Lippert.

Also the escrow funds could help the park districkapply for state grants. With the funds, the park district could match state grant funds.

In the past, the park district didn't have the funds available to match grants and didn't apply for many of them, according to Lippert.

"The key component of developing any open space is having the money to go with it," Lippert said.

Fawn Run is a proposed 525-unit development located on Sand Lake Road west of Rte. 45. The 200acre parcel abuts the McDonald Forest Preserve to the north, portions of Rte. 132 to the southwest and goes nearly to BJ Hooper School to the west.

The development will be a mix of single-family and multi-family units. The number of multi-family units is expected to be 146.

Lippert said he foresees no major complications which would prevent both sides from coming to an

The time is coming for a fam-Association presents the "Groundhog Ice Fishing Derby."

The event is scheduled for 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Feb. 12. Prizes, demonstrations, raffles and outdoor fun events are all planned for the five-hour extravaganza. Proceeds from the derby go back into improving the lake, such as fish stocking programs.

"A lot of kids come," said Bob Kidera of Deep Improvement Association. "A lot of fisherman bring their wives and children."

This year there are alternative activities for people who don't - like to fish. JL Kite team will provide demonstrations and a portion of the snow will be cleared for ice skating as well.

There will be over $2,000 in ily-fun weekend on the ice as raffles and prizes. Raffle prizes Deep Lake Improvement include a 20-inch TV, a flipphone and a gas grill.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the largest fish, smallest fish and largest panfish. Also, there are prizes for tagged fish caught.

Food and refreshments will be available. Included in the food stands will be hot dogs and hamburgers.

This is the fourth year of the derby. Last year, 750 people attended, this year an even larger number of people are expected.

People can enter the event off Deep Lake Road at Sixth Avenue. The Deep End, Jack and Lydia's Resort and Rader's will provide parking.

Kidera said the ice is solid where the event is being held at on the north end of the lake. He said there is about 10-inches of ice now and there should be at least 12-inches of ice if the weather stays the same.

This event, along with other fund raisers allows the association to care for the lake. Last year alone, over 5,000 fish were released in the fall.

For convenience of participants, friendly red-vested snowmobilers will volunteer to take fish to the weigh-in location. Fishing licenses and bait will be sold at the event and auguring of holes is free.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, State. Rep. Robert Churchill and County Board member Suzi Schmidt have been invited to the event. The cost to enter the contest is $5.

Staff Reporter Going into the North Suburban wrestling conference tournament, Antioch Coach Ted Sieckowski believed his squad's biggest challenge will come before the crucial meet. As last year's defending champions, Antioch needs the tournament victory to be named co-champions this year because Libertyville enters into the tournament undefeated in conference duals. Antioch suffered its only conference loss this year against Libertyville in a close dual meet.

In fact, since Sieckowski was named head coach last year, he has led Antioch to a 16-1 conference record with the only loss coming against Libertyville.

However, a number of factors, including injuries, could prevent as many as four key starters from competing.

"If we have everyone in place, we'll give Libertyville a run for their money," Sequoits expect to battle Wildcats for NSC crown Sieckowski said. "What is not resolved yet is the possibility of four starters being out."

> "I'm looking at a team that could place at every weight class, but there are some what ifs," Sieckowski said.

> In the meantime, Sieckowski is banking on the success of Lucas Dyer at 103 pounds, Jim Stevens at 145 pounds and Steve Zalapi at 125 pounds.

> "My hopes are very high for Luke Dyer," Sieckowski said. "He is really wrestling well right now, and he is peaking at the right time."

> He added, "Jim Stevens hasn't lost a match since Christmas time."

> Other hopefuls for Antioch include Justin Dyer, Brian Maike, Greg Laube and James Patterson. Freshman Justin Tripplett may wrestle in the heavyweight division.

> "We're going to have champions and we're going to have place winners, but I don't know if that is going to be enough," Sieckowski said. "Libertyville is very balanced with us. They have strengths where we don't."

Sieckowski also said he is worried about Warren squeaking by. Unlike dual meets when opposing wrestlers win in single matches, tournaments are designed for teams to garner points at various place levels.

"Your third- and fourth-place winners are important. Every win is crucial," Sieckowski said. "It really is a true measure of your team's strength."

"We have a group of seniors who have been together for a long time," Sieckowski said. "They deserve to win the conference."

Prelims of the conference tournament begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday. Wrestlebacks are set for the afternoon and then the finals begin at 5 p.m. All the action takes place at Zion-Benton Township High School.

It seems if Antioch ironed out some of its "what ifs" during practice this week, the Sequoits stand a chance to capture another co-championship title this year.

Towering Libertyville just too tall for Lady Sequoits

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

When your tallest starter is 5'9" and the opposing team starts four 6-footers, you know you're up against a considerable height disadvantage.

That was the scenario when the Antioch girls basketball team hosted Libertyville in a North Suburban Conference game. The state-ranked Wildcats walked away 46-29 victors.

Before the game, Antioch Coach Dave Woods said he was not going to allow the height mismatch to become an excuse, but he knew his Lady Sequoits would have to play flawless basketball to stay within reach of Libertyville's high-powered offense.

"Because of their size and their height, it creates great match-up problems for us," Woods said. To make matters worse, Woods added, "They have a good inside game, and they have a good outside game."

Considering the task, Antioch's pesky defense forced Libertyville's inside shooters to earn every shot, and Antioch's pass-around style of offense slowed the tempo of the game to Libertyville's disliking.

Libertyville Coach Tom Murphy, whose team's only conference losses have come against No. 1 ranked Stevenson, credited Antioch's performance.

"Antioch is a frustrating team to play against because they slow you down and pass the ball around a lot on offense. They packed it in on us," Murphy said.

Antioch's Erin O'Connell held Libertyville's leading pointmaker Julie Virta, who averages more than 20 points a game, to 8 points. O'Connell denied Virta of her dominating inside game. But 6-foot, 2-inch Tami Sears of Libertyville then became the main receiver under the hoop and scored 10 points.

Antioch played catch-up from the opening minutes when Libertyville's Jessica Narajowski (10 points) converted on two three-point plays. The Wildcats led 16-7 after the first eight minutes and eventually built a 23-11 half-time advantage.

For Antioch, the Sequoit offense had difficulty converting offensive plays into baskets. Having to shoot Libertyville's towering defenders, many of Antioch's shots were blocked, tipped or fell just short of the rim.

"We just haven't been consistent on offense all year," Woods said.

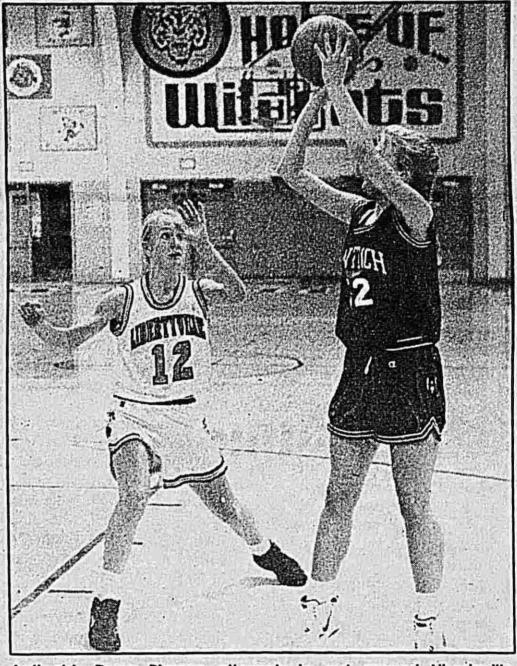

O'Connell managed a gamehigh 11 points. Rachel Hauser and Marge Klepacki added four points a piece, while Mary Ipsen and Lindsay Hladnik each were good for three points. Dana Pierson and Carrie Gofron also contributed with baskets.

"I think if a couple more shots would have fallen in, it would have been much closer than the score would indicate," Woods said. "They execute the offense really well, but the shots aren't falling. That's what drives coaches crazy."

Following Wednesday's match at Warren, Antioch (8-10, 6-4) hosts Fenton Saturday.

Despite the Libertyville loss, the Lady Sequoits have to be proud of a fifth seed in the 16team regional ranking. Woods only hopes that his players can grow a few more inches before the February regional.

Antioch freshman grapplers capture second invitational

Antioch dominated with 230 team points. Grant took second place with 179 points, and Stevenson finished third with 169 points.

Other high schools participating in the invitational included Warren, Round Lake, Grayslake, Carmel, Waukegan and

Second-place winners were Matt Olzewski at 112 pounds, Eric Ring at 119 pounds, Jesse Hall at 130 pounds and Chris Knuth at 135 pounds.

Fourth-quarter spurt allows Rams to shock Wauconda

The fourth quarter is often known as "crunch time" basketball talk.

And that usually refers to the last two minutes. But for Grayslake's faithful on Friday, it was the first two minutes. Two minutes which began Mendralla Time. The senior scored the first 5 points of the stanza and finished with 29 after having only 7 at halftime.

"We all got mad and decided to take it to them. It is all intensity," Mendralla said as he was congratulated by Rams fans. -

"The key was the kids. It was a new defense we had been working on," Coach Greg Groth said.

"Mendralla refused to allow them to lose," Wauconda Coach Don Pieper said.

The Bulldogs entered the fourth quarter up 49-43. Bit Mendralla ignited a 26-6 run with a pair of his five steals which resulted in baskets. It was the start of a quarter in which Mendralla could do no wrong at either end, except for an airball on his last free throw. The Rams defeated the Bulldogs 74-58.

A layup by Jim Schmuck (14 points) capped a 7-2 Wauconda run which closed the third period. Chris VanAlstine also had 14 for WHS.

Sophomore Mike Gertz canned 12 for the visitors, including several wide open treys.

"Mendralla was the beneficiary of their pressing defense. We tried the best we could to contain him and we did for three quarters," Pieper said.

John Parr's tip-in basket gave the Rams only a one-point deficit and Pete Neuberger (7 points) put the home team ahead for good at 54-51. Mendralla then drained a three and had a steal and lay-up. Two free throws by Neuberger and the Rams had a 10-point lead in less than three minutes.

It kept growing from there, reaching 15 points as Brian Witt tallied.

Coach Groth praised the play of Lukas Bolton. "He did a great job in the second quarter filling the role of a sixth man," Groth said.

The Rams, who maintained their status as the Northwest Suburban Conference leader at 7-1 (13-4 overall), began to take charge early with an 11-4 lead.

· Wauconda rallied, playing the Rams on an even basis and leading 33-32 at halftime as Van Alstine tipped home a miss.

Chances of the Wauconda (3-6, 8-9) winning streak moving to five continued to look good in the third as the Rams missed 11 of 15 shots.

Groth praised Wauconda's efforts. "Their team, coaching and attitude impresses me. They remind me a lot of where we were three years ago," he said.

"This was a learning experience for us," Pieper said.

The seventh grade team took first in the Suburban Middle School Conference tournament by defeating Barrington-Prairie Middle School 38-29. Grayslake was led by David Delger with 17 points. The seventh grade team is 12-2 on the year.

The seventh grade squad includes Brian Bitzinger, Cory Bowers, Jerry Conte, Brian Crim, David Delger, Brian Downs, Brent Downs, Casey Gant, Joe Kupfer, Mike Lawrence, Adolfo Martinez, Steve Miner, Cesar Sanchez, Andrew Sauer, Eric Sauer, Colin Shaw, Morgan Shipley, Willie Wright and Colin

The eighth grade team took second place in the conference, losing to Barrington-Station Middle School in the tournament final 29-24. Barrington-Station was undefeated on the season.

Grayslake was led by Scott Szymonik with 11 points. The eighth graders have a record of 10-5.

The eighth grade team consists of Mike Beverley, Jon Bevins, Alex Frank, Keith Hall, Chris Kingma, Matt Lewis, Bob Murbach, Rick Perez, Danny Peters, Eric Plautz, Brett Skelly, Phil Stokes, Matt Svendsen, Scott Szymonik, Bryan Wheeler and Randy Workman.

The seventh and eighth grade teams will be competing in the IESA regional tournament hosted by Grayslake at the end of January. Coaches for Grayslake are John Gendron and Tim Borries. The Suburban Middle School Conference consists of Aptakisic, Barrington-Prairie, Barrington-Station, Grayslake, Hawthorn, Lake Zurich-North and Lake Zurich-South.

JHS grapplers bracing for league tests

Some coaches do not like having their team tabbed as the favorite. Expectations rise and an otherwise successful season is considered a flop.

Johnsburg wrestling Coach Basil Bakakos does not mind his team being the favorite to win the Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling title at Grant Jan. 28.

"I like our position. We have had a successful conference season and exceeded by expectations," Bakakos said.

Johnsburg brings an unbeaten 5-0 in league dual meet record to the conference meet. All that is history in the round robin format where everyone battles all. Action gets underway at 9 a.m.

"It will boil down to who has the most depth with third or fourthplace finishes," Bakakos said.

Jason Guida leads the Skyhawks with an 33-1 record at 189 pounds. Mike Kochan is 27-4 at 130.

Justin Norris returned from an injury to battle Grayslake's talented Ed Pak and lost only by three at 145. "Getting Justin back for conference is a big help," Bakakos said.

Other consistent wrestlers for JHS include 112 pounder Randy Zendegna. "He has been wrestling well since Christmas," Bakakos

Grayslake wrestling coach Eric Skoog had a plan going in against NWSC leader Johnsburg.

Knowing Johnsburg had strong wrestlers in the upper weights, Skoog shifted the weight classes of his best wrestlers down one but that was not enough in a 46-12 defeat.

"I knew it would be a battle and everything I planned they played right into," Skoog said.

But that did not result in wins, as Johnsburg won each weight class through 135.

"Johnsburg is a good club and their talents won out," Skoog said.

Winners for Grayslake were Ed Kerns at 140 with a pin over Johnsburg standout Mike Kochan in 2:56 ad Ed Pak, who downed Justin Norris 10-7. Justin Wood earned a 9-3 win at 171 pounds over Chris Colosimo.

Johnsburg's Doersman at 103 pinned Vince Chebny in 4:27; Randy Zandegna earned a major decision over Chris Cherwa, 14-2, at 112; Josh Kehl downed Jason Cherwa 11-4 at 119; Joe Dodge edged Nick Day in what Skoog described as a key match 9-6 at 125 and Cohn pinned C.J. Hardford in 55 seconds at 130 and Ted Voigt earned a 15-8 win over Lukas Day at Chip Jensen of Grayslake took Dave Olsen of Johnsburg to overtime before losing 13-8 at 145.

Brian Nelson won by decision at 160 over Pat Eldridge of Grayslake and Johnsburg's Guida won by pin at 189.

did bring a negative impact for it 2-1 at the break. some Rams.

"The first time at a weight class, conditioning tends to fail early. We are usually at our best in the third period, but we did not have any extra energy," Skoog said.

Athlete of the week

Steve Zalapl was chosen at Athlete of the Week for the week ending Jan. 8. Zalapi alone counted for 30 team points in six events for the wrestlers over the weekend. He pinned an opponent 15 pounds more than him against Woodstock, a state ranked team. The First Chicago Bank and Thelen Sand and Gravel will make a donation to the high school scholarship fund in his name. Runners up were: Kevin Eckenstahler and Jessica Kane.

Lindenhurst Blitz defeats Barrington

The Blitz finished off their indoor season with a convincing win over the BASA Blitz (Barrington) by a score of 4-2.

The Blitz showed off their soccer ability with precise passing, excellent use of the entire field and total teamwork. Lindenhurst scored early when Allison Earl took a pass from Becca Bleyer and fired a shot that found all net. With Lindenhurst keeping fierce pressure in front of the BASA goal, Nicki Kral weaved through the defense and rocketed a The changes in weight classes shot past the keeper. The BASA Blitz scored one late in the half to make

> The second half found Lindenhurst picking up where they left off. Bleyer scored with Earl getting the assist to put the Blitz up 3-1. BASA came right back with a goal to cut the lead to one. On a beautiful two on one breakaway, Erin Sparkman led Robin Levy with a pinpoint pass that Levy converted to ice the game.

> Lindenhurst standouts throughout the game were Stacey Alberts, Tami Wright, Melissa Helbig, Katie Hoskins, Sondra Lorang, Elly Elfering and Susan Woodruff.

> The Lindenhurst Blitz finished 2-5-1. The Blitz will next go into action after the high school season ends and they enter the Illinois State Cup competition.

Lindenhurst soccer sets deadline

Registration for the 1995 Lindenhurst Youth Soccer Program will continue through Feb. 3. Registrations are being taken at the park district community center in Lindenhurst Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The soccer program is offered to all children who are currently in grades kindergarten through eighth. A registrant for the kindergarten league must have been born on or before Aug. 31, 1989.

Registrants can sign up for the full year, the spring season only, or be placed on a waiting list for the fall season.

More than 1,000 youth have participated in the program over the last two seasons. However, the 1995 registrations are coming in rather slowly which could effect the programs to be offered. All interested players are urged to get their registration in as soon as possible so as not to miss the Feb. 3 deadline.

For Antioch, regional seed tilts on weekend action

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

For the Antioch boys basketball team, this weekend's play could prove pivotal in gaining a favorable seed in the regional ranking.

Out of 16 teams, the top eight earn first-round home games. This weekend, Antioch (2-7, 8-9) plays Lake Forest (6-3, 12-6) and Libertyville (4-5, 7-10). Wins over both teams could be the boost the Sequoits need to earn the eighth seed.

"These games are pretty important," said Antioch Coach leff Dresser. "I don't think our record reflects our overall performance, but we want to try to get the first regional game at home."

Although the Sequoits are. coming off a loss against topranked Zion-Benton, Dresser believes his team played well enough to win. Antioch was leading 66-64 in the final minute, but Zion-Benton bounced back to steal the victory 75-69.

"The last two minutes slipped by us," Dresser said. "We couldn't get the turnovers, and they capitalized."

Eric Eckenstahler gave Antioch a stellar performance against Zion-Benton, netting 35 points and snatching 17 rebounds.

Dresser described Eckenstahler's all-around court show the best in his three-year varsity career. "Not only did he score a lot of points and rebound a lot, but he made a lot of good decisions on the floor passing the ball and on defense," Dresser said.

Two other players scored in the double digits, including Eric Cambell with 14 points and Kevin Eckenstahler with 13 points. But to succeed against Lake Forest and Libertyville, Dresser said his other starters have to contribute more to the offensive attack.

"We need to get our fourth and fifth position players scoring for us," Dresser insisted.

Dresser did see many positives in the Zion game which he hopes will be carried over this weekend.

"They gained some confidence against Zion. We did a lot of things right," Dresser said. "Our kids are starting to make better decisions on the floor."

Against Lake Forest, the Sequoits will be paying special attention to center Ed Cage, who averages 20 points a game. Dresser also feels the Sequoits have to disrupt shooter Eric Santa before he makes the shot.

In the Libertyville game, the Sequoits will concentrate on defending Wildcat leading pointmaker Chad Lee. Depending on where he plays, Cambell, Kevin Geraghty or Justin McRae will matchup against Lee.

"We hope to utilize Eric's quickness on him. We need to take him right on early," Dresser said. The Sequoits also want to neutralize sophomore center J.R. Jurecko, Dresser noted.

On the offensive side, Dresser said, "We have to run our offense, get some ball movement and get a lot of people involved in scoring. I think we'll see some good things this weekend."

Antioch hosts Lake Forest Friday and Libertyville Saturday. Both games are at 7:30 p.m. Regional seeds will be determined after the contests Feb. 1.

Grant upset of Rams gives NWSC a race There is one big drawback Grant hosts Wauconda at 7 p.m. Jan. 27 while Grayslake trav-

about being king of the hill.

When you reach the top, you find out how tough it is to stay

Grayslake High has been on the top of the Northwest Suburban Conference boys basketball wars for several months, so, when teams pull off the upset, it is time to storm the floor in celebration.

Such was the case for Grant Tuesday in a 54-51 win over the host Rams.

"It was either get this win or set some different goals. The kids are resilient," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

The win creates a race in the NWSC as opposed to a run away for Grayslake. Grant is 6-3 NWSC, 9-9 overall while the Rams slip to 7-2, 13-6. That coupled with Round Lake's 77-74 win in overtime against Wauconda could make things interesting in the last month of the season.

els to Marian Central. The Waukegan sectional seeding meeting is Feb. 1.

Grant had to overcome an 11point halftime deficit and a dunk by the Rams John Parr (team high 20 points) which closed the third period with Grayslake ahead by "Teams are playing their best against us. They want to knock off the Rams," Rams Coach Greg Groth said.

Dave Mendralla was held to 12 points, half of his average. He sat out 31 minutes of a 58-55 Rams loss at Marengo Saturday with an illness.

"We have to get more production from other players and that is my responsibility," Groth said.

The Bulldogs had a do-or-die look to their play in the second half. Senior Dave Stone, celebrating the first win in Rams country, scored 21 points. Ben Carter, back after missing four games due to injury, had 9 and Brian Mikels had 9 including the gamedeciding free throws.

"The win gives us a big confidence boost. We played four quarters tonight, Usually we only play three quarters," Stone said.

Stone guarded Mendralla, a matchup Grant wanted the first round but could not generate due to foul trouble.

The two teams found themselves in a 51-51 deadlock with 3:15 left. Neither team scored until the 1:20 mark when Stone hit one of two free throws.

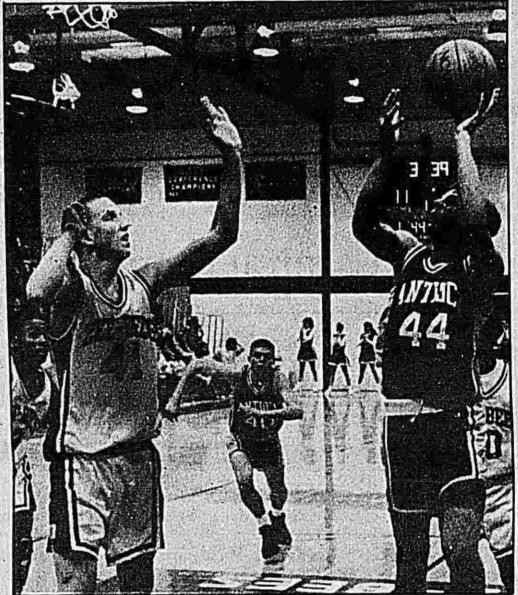

Carter missed one, as did Mikels before Mikels was sent to the line with 9.4 seconds left. The junior hit both.

"I just pretended it was practice," Mikels said.

The Rams played a "great first half" in Groth's estimation in building a 37-26 lead. Brian Fischer had 6 of his 8 points.

"There are no reasons. Everybody wants to beat the Rams. I am real disappointed. We looked like we were not clicking," Groth Parr had 20, Pete Neuberger had 11 and Fischer 10 for Grayslake. The Rams fell at the free-throw line, where Marengo outscored them 19-7.

Carmel girls on a mission

After achieving the No. 4'seed at the Stevenson sectional tournament, the Carmel girls basketball team has been on a mission.

To show the rest of the county they belong there. Carmel downed Waukegan 57-55 for an 11-9 overall mark Tuesday, solidifying its claim

Erin Potempa scored 24 points to lead the effort and all but one of the 7 overtime points. Sophomore Jill D'Noma had the other point in her first varsity game. Colleen Kromach had a double-double with 13 points and 11 rebounds. The score was tied 50-50 after regulation play as Potempa hit key shots down the stretch. And all this with two starters on the bench having fouled out and the team overcoming a 9-point deficit. "We went with full-court pressure. It was a total team effort," Carmel Coach Larry Whittier said.

Jenny Tulley fouled out early in the fourth and Erin Clancy got her fifth foul late in the stanza.

Soph D'Noma was brought up for rebounding as she is 6-foot tall. "She also plays good defense," Whittier said.

He commented he was impressed with Waukegan's fast-break style and quickness.

Carmel is at Deerfield Jan. 28 at 2:30 p.m. It must find a way to stop leading scorer Stephanie Ori.

Carmel, with the Girls Catholic Athletic Conference tourney still ahead, learned it will host Highland Park, the No. 13 seed Feb. 13 or Feb. 14 in the first round of the Stevenson sectional. Carmel downed Highland Park 41-25 earlier. A first-round win pits Carmel against the Antioch-Grayslake winner in the Feb. 16 regional final.

Ozga assists Millikin squad

Sue Ozga is contributing to the success of the Millikin University women's basketball team.

Ozga, an Antioch High grad, is scoring 2.2 points per game in nine contests. She has 4-for-5 in free-throws and 12 rebounds.

Ozga is a senior guard who has won two letters at the Decatur school. She was second team all-conference and team captain last year. She is an honor roll student and National Honor Society member.

Millikin is off to a strong 8-3 start. The Big Blue won its College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin opener with an 83-48 trouncing of North Park. Millikin hosts Wheaton at 2 p.m. Jan. 21.

Ozga was first team all North Suburban Conference and MVP her senior year at Antioch.

Bumblis sparks Mustangs past Pats

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Mundelein's newest starting forward Dave Bumblis put the rush and adrenaline of his first start to good use as he helped the Mustangs overcome a dismal first quarter and eventually dominate Stevenson 90-67.

Bumblis replaces the position held by Bjorn Johnson, who will sit out the remainder of the season due to a knee injury.

"It was my first start so I was a little nervous, but I was pumped up," Bumblis said.

Bumblis showed no signs that he was starting his first game as he scored a season-high 12 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, blocked two shots, and finished a steal with a soft dunk.

"Dave is no surprise," said Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel. "He's going to be giving us some quality minutes."

Kessel added that he told his players after the Christmas tournaments that starting Bumblis was going to be a distinct possibility.

"I told the kids that realistically if we're going to win this thing I need to have a power forward," Kessel said.

Bumblis certainly demonstrated to his coach, teammates and fans that he is a legitimate starter who can do it all.

Stevenson, however, frustrated Mundelein early with the fullcourt press. Peter Ferguson scored 10 of his 23 points in the first quarter. He sparked the Patriots to an 8-0 lead. They led by as much as 11 before Mundelein regrouped to tie the game at 19 at the end of the first quarter.

"We got out to that quick lead, and then we fell into some unforluck," explained tunate Stevenson Coach Ken Johnson. "Right away we got into foul trouble, so we had to take some key guys off the floor."

Bumblis said Stevenson's early lead was largely a result of his team getting used to him and each other with a new starter in the lineup.

"That was the first time all five of us played together as a team, so the first couple of minutes it took some time getting used to each other," Bumblis said. "Then, we began working as a team, and 10 minutes later it was 17-19."

Bumblis, Sean Stackhouse (22 points) and Brian McMahon (23 points) led the charge in the second quarter. By halftime, the Mustangs led 45-30.

"Controlling the boards to me was the key to the game," Kessel said, Stackhouse added rebounds and contributed with 11 assists. Kessel said he was impressed with Stackhouse's allaround game.

Ivan Hourruitiner (20 points) came on strong in the second half and excited Mundelein fans by sinking a basket from behind the net and shooting over the backboard at the third-quarter buzzer.

For Stevenson, Ryan Pohlmann added 7 points, while Tyler Hawkins contributed 12 points to the scoring effort. Coming off mid-term exams, the Patriots showed signs of mental exhaustion.

"I knew they were tired all week from exams," Johnson said. "They were mentally too tired to regroup."

Both teams lost several players in the fourth quarter to foul trouble. Mundelein reserves Kyle McCarthy hit a three pointer and Jeremy Sanford ended the game with a hoop at the buzzer.

The win and a Zion-Benton loss gave Mundelein sole possession of first place in the North Suburban. The Mustangs (15-3, 8-1) hosts Warren and Zion-Benton Friday and Saturday. Stevenson (5-13, 3-6) travels to Libertyville Friday and hosts North Chicago Saturday.

Agency talks move from speed boats to no-wake

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

"It was a funny thing," said Fox Waterway Agency director Ron Baker, who discussed how talk began with the elimination of cigarette boats on the Chain O' Lakes, and now it's down to a small no-wake zone question in Johnsburg.

A number of boaters turned out at an Agency meeting when a proposal was made to establish a zone 500 feet north and south of the Chapel Hill Bridge—the narrowest part of the Fox River.

One of the safety problems a no-wake could help curb is the speed boats racing alongside each other in that area. Baker, owner of Baker's Marine Support, agrees. "It will solve a problem in existence for a long time," he said.

But it may also cause some extra waves in the water with the starting and stopping of boats, although that's not much to worry about, explained the director since most boats parked nearby are on lifts and there are seawalls along homes to help stop erosion.

This was all taken into consideration by the board before the proposal was made, said Baker.

Dr. William Dam, chairman of the Agency, explained the Village of Johnsburg is concerned the area in question is "perceived as dangerous" and is "esthetically disturbing" and has passed a resolution favoring the no-wake proposal.

While the chairman said neither he nor the Agency board has a particular solution for the Johnsburg site, one way or another, "The no wake's gonna happen. I can tell you that."

Based solely on a hearing, said Dam, the directors won't support a no-wake proposal.

Bernard Varky, owner of Varky's Marine Service in Fox River Grove, attended the meeting briefly, but had a lot to say about a no-wake.

Varky, an Advisory Committee member of the Agency since about 1985, said he thinks the whole ordeal started with residents complaining about two or three boats racing side by side on waterways.

"It's the same thing on the roads," Varky explained. With a no-wake zone installed in the Johnsburg location, Varky said he fears residents will then complain about something else-noise.

"When you slow down it (the noise of the boats) gets softer, but when you step on it, it will be much louder," he explained.

"No 'no-wake zone' should be enforced. I think that's a police problem myself," Varky said. "If there's reckless driving (on the Chain) I think the marine patrol should do something about it."

"I voted against the no-wake when they brought it up (at the advisory committee)," he said.

On Feb. 1, Agency directors will meet again at a committee of the whole to discuss the proposal and vote on whether there should be an ordinance drafted on it.

The Advisory Committee may also bring the issue up again at the end of this month.

Free child ID program at Sears Hardware

A Child Identification Program will be offered Jan. 28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the new Sears Hardware store, 340 E. Rollins Rd. in Round Lake Beach. Children will be photographed and a set of fingerprints taken, free of charge, and parents will be given a Child Identification booklet to keep in case of emergency. Besides a section for a current head-and-shoulders photograph and fingerprints, the booklet includes pages for vital family, medical and dental information and tips for protecting children.

Appearances by the crime-fighting "Officer McGruff" will take place throughout the day and officials from the Round Lake Beach Police Dept. will be present to answer questions about child safety.

Created by Sears Hardware and the Illinois Crime Prevention Assn. (ICPA), the Child Identification Program will increase awareness about missing children and educate families about steps that can be taken to protect their children. According to the U.S. Dept. of Justice, more than one million children are reported missing each year. "We urge the parents in the Round Lake area to take the time to participate in this program," said Keith Briggs, president of the ICPA. "Up-to-date pictures and proper fingerprints would be instrumental in assisting with a missing child investigation.

"This event will also reinforce the importance of 'stranger danger' to the children," he added. "Once they've had their photos and fingerprints taken, the significance of all the warnings about strangers becomes unmistakable."

According to Sears Hardware Manager Dave Bochenek, "Having all of this information in an easily accessible place will help give parents peace of mind. Chances are, it will never be needed. But if it is, they are prepared."

Sears Hardware in Round Lake Beach officially opened in the first week of January. The store will also be celebrating its grand opening Jan. 28 with events including car mat giveaways to the first 300 customers and registration to win shopping sprees.

Winter Carnival promises fun, excitement

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Round Lake Area Lake's Management Organization is planning a day of family fun at the third annual "Winter Carnival" on Round Lake.

Many events are planned for this outdoor fun event which seems to get bigger and better each year. Besides ice fishing, events include skating races and carnival events for kids as well. The carnival runs from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Feb. 5 at Round Lake Park Beach off Lakeshore Drive.

The event is co-sponsored by the Village of Round Lake Park, Round Lake Area Park District and Round Lake Area Lakes Management Organization.

Ice skating is scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. with skating contests from 11 a.m. to noon. Outdoor games are planned from noon to 2 p.m. Dress for the weather because all games will be outside.

As an added feature, a 'how to" clinic for firsttime fishermen is scheduled for 8 a.m. and will be presented by Rol Steinhauser of the Illinois Department of Conservation Urban Fishing program. Steinhauser also will visit Magee Middle School and St. Paul Lutheran School on Feb. 4 for demonstrations as well.

"Hopefully we can get kids interested in fishing rather then less positive things," said Rich Hill of Round Lake Area Lakes Management Organization.

Prizes will be awarded for largest fish overall, largest fish in seven categories and another category yet to be decided.

People can pre-register at the park district office or at Round Lake Park Village Hall. The cost is $2 for children aged 14 and under and $3 for adults. Lunch is included in the registration fee. Registration the day of the event is $3 for children and $4 for adults.

Last year, 200 people attended the carnival. This year, even more people are expected to enjoy this unique outdoor event.

For more information call the park district at 546-8558

Crime Stoppers Seek information on homicide

Crime Stoppers and the Lake Co. Sheriff's Police Dept. are seeking information regarding a dismemberment homicide investigation.

On Monday, Jan. 16, the leg of a white female believed to be late teens to early 20's was found in the vicinity of Edwards Rd. and Hunt Club Rd. in unincorporated Wadsworth.

If you have any information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at 662-2222.

If your information leads to an arrest and indictment, you could be eligible for a reward of up to $1,000. Remember, Crime Stoppers wants information, not names.

Special recreation help needed

The Northern Illinois Special Recreation Assn. (NISRA) is seeking volunteer assistants to help with recreational programs for youth and adults with disabilities. Volunteers are neded this winter season for swimming, country line dancing, Special Olympic Basketball, bowling

YMCA Camp Jorn's 31st Pancake Day

The 31st annual Pancake Day will be held on Sunday, Jan. 29, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Lake Co. Family YMCA (2000 Western Ave., Waukegan). Breakfast includes pancakes, sausage, milk, coffee and juice. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for children under eight. All proceeds are used for the maintenance of the camp in northern Wisconsin.

Superbowl can help raise funds for animals

Enjoy watching the super bowl game while helping out the animals at the same time.

A fund raiser for the Pets in Need no-kill animal shelter will take place Jan. 29 at the Tamara Royal Inn on Rte. 31 in McHenry.

A $10 donation will allow you free food, and the viewing of the San Francisco 49er's vs. the San Diego Chargers on a giant screen TV for Superbowl Sunday.

A cash bar will be open as well. The event starts at 3 p.m. For more information, call Jim Koppel at (815) 385-8481.

Pets in Need is a shelter which has been in operation for several years, and McHenry County said it does not operate in an area with the proper zoning.

Owners Pat and Rudy Klimo were told their shelter may be shut down, and many cats and dogs would then lose their home.

Help is needed for the shelter and legal fees to fight the court

The next court date will be in March.

Sheriff warns snowmobilers to stay off ice

Lake County is well known as a primary, year round, midwestern recreation area, and while the Chain of Lakes is recognized for summer activities such as boating and fishing, the cold weather brings winter sportsmen to participate in ice fishing, skiing and snowmobiling.

The recommended ice thickness for safe operation'is no less than six inches, as the average snowmobile and driver weighs approximately 700 pounds. Grinnell continued to say, "We cannot always be sure of the thickness of the ice by one measurement, as it will be thinner in areas of springs and certain vegetation. All things considered, common sense is the rule and snowmobilers should always be cognizant of the weather conditions affecting their sport."

Mom celebrates birthday with return of two sons

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Carolyn Montalbano had one of the best birthday celebrations of her life Sunday when she was able to celebrate with her two sons, Michael and Nicholas, who had been missing for four years. The boys had been abducted by her exhusband, Curt Montalbano in 1991.

The couple divorced and the children were taken during the first court-ordered visitation. That visitation took place on Jan. 25, 1991.

It is not known why Curt agreed to return the children. Carolyn had contacted "A Way Out" program, a mediation service of a New York company. The organization contacted Montalbano family.

"Carolyn got a call at the office," said Joe Epifanio, Montalbano's employer at Century 21 in Antioch. "She was advised the kids were in South America."

The information was provided after Curt had a received a letter through the organization. "A letter had been sent," said Assistant Attorney General Liz Foran-Yore. "It may have been a factor."

"The brother-in-law was real helpful in the return. She (Carolyn) calls him St. Michael," said Epifanio. "The father was willing to return the children."

According to Epifanio, the children were returned in good condition although a bit reserved. "They are taking it every day as it comes," said Epifanio.

Epifanio credits the dedication of the boy's mother, as well as private investigator Tom Hampson and Foran-Yore with the return of the children. "In my eyes, you don't find better or more dedicated people," he said.

During the abduction, the boys had quite an adventure. "Curt was involved in the peasant uprising in Chiapas, Mexico," said Foran-Yore. "I can't imagine why anyone would take children there."

The bulk of the time, the boys lived with their father in Mexico. "Apparently, most of the time they were in Mexico on a coffee plantation," explained ForanYore. "That is how he supported himself and the boys.".

The mother and private detective flew to the island of Utilla, which is on the northern coast of Honduras. Television cameras were on hand as they returned to O' Hare airport.

The charges against Curt still stand, said Foran-Yore. "The charges remain in place," she said. The father is wanted for parental child abduction and a federal charge of unlawful flight.

The mother, Carolyn, was unavailable for comment. "She is hiding out," said Epifanio. He said the family needs to spend some time together, undisturbed. See RETURN page B4

Police continue search for clues in homicide

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Lake County police and residents in rural Newport Township remain perplexed as to why an apparent murder victim was dismembered and buried in a Newport Township field.

"Friendly", the family pet of an Edwards Road family has brought home yet another severed human leg. This is the secand human leg in 10 days for the German shepherd.

Unlike the gruesome find of last week, this leg has been covered in dirt. "This one was not really clean like the other," said Lake County Undersheriff Gary Del Re. "We have to believe it was exposed to dirt or some digging."

Police theorize both legs were found at the same time and the dog buried the left leg, while bringing the right leg home on Jan. 16. Then, on Saturday, Jan. 21 at 10:45 a.m., the dog brought the left leg home.

Shepherd brings home second leg

"The snow was almost helpful," said Del Re. But, with the heavy snowfall over the weekend, the tracks were rapidly covered. "We went out with the dog (Friendly)," said Del Re. However, no other body parts were found.

Police are expanding their search outside of the county with the help of the FBI. The FBI has been contacted to assist with a data base of missing persons who might fit the description of the body.

Initially, police speculated the first leg found could have been the result of random toss from a passing vehicle. However, with the discovery of a second leg, police now are inclined to believe the entire body may be out there. "I think the likelihood has increased," said Del Re.

"We will continue to conduct a search of the area," said Del Re. Police are checking the area on foot because of the rugged terrain. At this point, officers are searching a 20 square-mile area bounded by Route 173 and Stateline Road, along Hunt Club Road. The dog's owners live on Edwards Road, just off of Hunt Club.

Deputy Sheriff Chester Iwan believes authorities are dealing with someone who wanted to disguise his victim.

"The individual (who committed the crime) went through a great deal of trouble to disguise his victim," said Iwan. "The rest of the body may be no where near the area."

"I'm scared out of my mind," said neighbor Diane Schechter. Schechter said her family has not walked their property in search of a body. "There is too much snow," she explained. "I am not about to do anything on my

SEDOL officials will chart long-term goals in session

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

As a new facility continues to be constructed in Gages Lake, Special Education District of Lake County (SEDOL) officials will be discussing long-term goals.

"We try and do it every five years or so to look at what will SEDOL look like in five years. The strategic planning process will provide a structure for collaboration among the various stakeholders in Lake County interested in services for students with disabilities. Our goal is to reach consensus among all parties regarding how services will be delivered in the future for these students," Dr. John Anderson, superintendent, said.

The first step of the process is the planning team which will meet Feb. 3 - 5 at Motorola Corporation's Libertyville site. Meeting in the conference area, the group will consist of representatives of about half of the district's 37 members. Finances, facilities and program needs will all be discussed.

Anderson reported construction work is on schedule for the $3.4 million facility near the Gages Lake School. Boller Construction of Waukegan is the general contractor.

"We were able to get the building under roof, so the snow has not affected us," Anderson said.

A June 1 completion date is expected. The facility will house a parent-infant center and district offices.

The Viking Park building in Gurnee which presently holds district offices will be put up for sale.

Vet to meet 'Doc's' family this week

Vietnam veteran Dick Coughlin didn't waste any time. Immediately after talking to the mother of a fellow soldier who was killed alongside him during the Battle of Trouglouge, Dick made plans to fly to Fox Lake to meet her.

Coughlin will meet Blossom Giunte, the mother of Marten "Doc" Philip Eastham, a medic in the U.S. Army, who was shot and killed.

He will also gather with other family members of Doc's including former Fox Lake police chief Ron Nagel, who is related to Eastham by marriage.

For 28-years on and off, Coughlin has looked for Doc's relatives without success until last week.

This joyful event was to begin Thursday when Coughlin was to arrive at O'Hare Airport. Then on Friday, Coughlin, his wife, Georgine, and the group he will now know, will visit the Fox Lake Cemetery to see the grave site where Doc has been laid to rest.

Coughlin said he took a chance when he called Doc's mother whose phone number he got from Nagel.

He didn't know whether she would reject hearing from him. Instead she was more than delighted, and quite surprised.

"A fella in his Company wrote us and said both of them died," said Giunti.

"Like I told Dick (Coughlin),
'We were told you weren't alive.
Otherwise we would have tried to search for you,' " she explained.

"The search has been imminent. It's (now) finally come to full circle," said Coughlin.—by TINA SWIECH

Snowmobile mishap kills passenger

A Northbrook woman was killed when a vehicle struck a snowmobile in rural Russell Jan. 22. Lake County Sheriff's Department police and Lake County States Attorney's office continue to investigate the accident, which took place at about 9:40 p.m.

Susan L. Schultz, age 40, of Northbrook, was a passenger in the snowmobile. She was transported by Newport Fire Department to St. Therese Medical Center where she was pronounced dead.

The accident took place at Russell Road at the Des Plaines River. The driver of the suburban who allegedly struck the snow-mobile is Douglas Bailey of Pleasant Prairie, Wis. He was treated and released.

Steven O. Foser, age 34, of Northfield, is the driver of the snowmobile. He was listed in serious condition the next day at St. Therese Medical Center.

Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson said Schultz died from multiple injuries including chest and a broken back. The snowmobile apparently went underneath the Suburban.

PADS receives American Express award

Connection's Lake Co. PADS program has received a $2,500 grant from the Volunteer Action Fund of the American Express Foundation.

This fund was established to support eligible organizations in which U.S. employees of American Express volunteer on a regular basis.

"We are pleased that the regional office of the Ayco Co. in Deerfield was one of the 59 affiliates of our organization selected to share in the total of $58,000 awarded by the Volunteer Action Fund this quarter," said Mary Beth Salerno, president of the American Express-sponsored fund.

"Since all 25 of us in the office help support the PADS shelter at the Waukegan Park Dist., it was easy to qualify for the maximum amount the fund awards," said Ayco employee Kathy Molidor who, with Marianne Tyrrell of Gurnee and Beth Lindsey of Gilberts, applied for the grant.

"Every one of us in the office do something," she added. "Some of us volunteer one Sunday night a month in the shelter while others provide food, toiletries, sheets, blankets and towels."

Molidor is a former PADS site manager and Volunteer Presenter for PADS training sessions. She, Tyrrell and Lindsey, along with their husbands, have been PADS volunteers for several years.

PADS (Public Action to Deliver Shelter) provides emergency shelter and meals for homeless individuals and families throughout Lake Co. between Oct. 1 and April 30.

The Volunteer Action Fund is a pilot program of the American Express Foundation. It has awarded over $204,000 to 284 organizations during its first three quarters.

American Express is a diversified travel and financial service company. It is a leader in charge cards, Travelers Cheques, travel, financial planning and international banking.

Metra begins 'Link Up' program

Metra commuter rail has two new options for customers who have been using the city-suburb "Link Up" program, which is being discontinued. "Link Up," a $36 sticker affixed to monthly rail passes at time of purchase, provided unlimited rides on CTA and Pace during the month for which the rail pass was issued. "Link Up" will no longer be available due to CTA's termination of all prepaid unlimited ride tickets.

Replacing "Link Up" will be a new Metra-Pace $30 sticker, to be known as "PaceTrak," which will provide unlimited rides on all regular Pace routes. As with "Link Up," this sticker will be available only at the time of purchase of a monthly rail pass. Pace estimates that normal workday use of the pass will equate to a 25 to 40 percent discount from the cash fare. Replacing "Link Up" at the Replacing "Link Up" at the CTA will be a special "Shuttle Fare" of $1 per trip for certain CTA buses serving Metra stations during weekday rush hours. CTA's normal cash fare is $1.50 Tokens cost $1.25.

"The major change in CTA's overall fare structure left no room for Link Up," said Metra Exec. Dir. Philip A. Pagano. "We are glad that we were able to work with CTA to establish the shuttle bus concept," he said. Pagano noted that under the new arrangement, the special CTA fare for commuters will be available to all Metra customers, not just those who buy monthly rail passes.

As with "Link Up," Metra will continue to subsidize both the Pace and CTA discounts.

Community problem solving proposals now being accepted

United Way of Lake County is now accepting applications for the 1995 Community Problem Solving Grants. The funding cycle runs from July 1, 1995, to June 30, 1996.

These grants are used to fund several innovative programs that address a significant gap in service. The focus area for this year's funding is Prevention Programs for At Risk Youth and Families. Special emphasis will be given to the prevention of teen pregnancy, school dropouts, child abuse and violence.

Applications are due in the United Way of Lake County office by noon on Wednesday, Feb. 15. Applicants which have been approved for funding will be notified in June, 1995. To request an application, or for more information, call Michelle Crombie at United Way of Lake Co., 816-0063.

Tax forms available in clerk's office

County Clerk Willard Helander has announced that federal and state income tax and Circuit Breaker forms are available in the county clerk's office, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

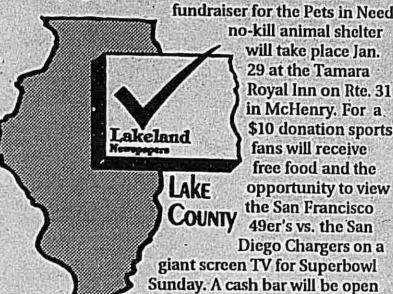

"We have found this to be a helpful service to Lake Co. residents," Helander said, "and we're happy to be offering it once again.

"Although our office isn't able to carry every form, we do have the basics. If you need a state form that we don't have," she explained, "you can call the state at 1-800-356-6302. For federal forms, call 1-800-829-3676."

WAUCONDA—Firefighters from the Wauconda Fire Department were instrumental in locating the body of a drowned Wisconsin resident whose body had not been recovered for 13 days after his accident. The firefighters were all ice dive rescue specialists who volunteered their services to help pull Brian J. Sanders, 18, of Pell Lake, Wis., out of Powers Lake in western Kenosha County. Through the use of underwater video equipment, two Wauconda divers were able to recover the body the afternoon of Jan. 21. He had been snowmobiling on the lake when he fell through a patch of

Hawthorn seeks referenda

VERNON HILLS—Hawthorn School District 73 in Vernon Hills will be asking voters to approve two referenda in the April 4 election. The two referenda are aimed to address the district's financial woes. The district has been operating at a $2 million budget deficit and its overall debt is expected to surpass $9.4 million by the end of this school year. The April referenda ask for $10 million in bonds to alleviate debt and a 30-cent tax hike in the education fund to generate additional revenue for its budget deficit dilemma. The bond issues will be retired in 12 years.

Township talks hills safety

GURNEE—A landmark of Warren Township could be on its way to being upgraded. The hill, where generations of Warren Township residents have had winter fun on everything from wooden sleds to discs, had its safety questioned at a Warren Township Board meeting. "People are going down the hill lickity split," Robert Depke, Warren Township supervisor, stated. One possible improvement is to have alleys in which people could use on the top of the hill, much like downhill skiing.

LIBERTYVILLE—State Rep. Andrea Moore, hosted her quarterly Breakfast Club, giving an legislative update. Rep. Moore just returned from Springfield for the swearing in of the new state legislature. She announced the committees she has been assigned this year they include, Commerce, Industry and Labor, Energy and Environment, Public Utilities and Revenue. She will chair the Elections and State Government Committee. "I was very pleased about the committees I have been assigned, because they are good, solid committees," Moore said.

Crime rate down

MUNDELEIN—Records show the crime rate was down 41 percent for the 1992-93 year in Mundelein.

According to Chief Ray Rose, there are several reasons for the decrease. The NIBRS, Neighborhood Incident Base Reporting System, a combination of all the crime rate numbers within Illinois, collected the data base. This data base could cause the numbers to fall. The data consists of percentages that do not reflect what is really happening, according to Rose. "Statistically, percentages will change just because they are going to change," stated Rose. "We have a proactive community, which has brought the percentage down," said Rose. He also believes the 1994-95 year will continue to show a decrease

Park District offering pool

The Park District made an attempt last March with a referendum combining a swimming pool and a community center in one facility. That referendum was rejected by voters. After the referendum's failure, the Park District mailed a survey to all households in the district to find out exactly what the voting public did want regarding improved Park District facilities. The results of the survey indicated the pool only was the top priority for taxpayers. If approved, the bond debt would be retired over a 20-year period.

Former Waukegan mayor dies

WAUKEGAN—Haig Paravonian, former Mayor of Waukegan, died earlier this week. Members of the clerk's office believed he was 65 years old. Paravonian a lifelong Waukegan resident, served over 26 years in city government. He was an alderman of the Third Ward from 1967 to 1977, taking a four year hiatus before being elected again to serve as alderman from 1981 to 1989. In May of 1989, he was elected mayor of the city, serving in the position until April of 1993. The retired school teacher is survived by three children.

Kimball Hill withdraws plans

NORTH BARRINGTON—Developers of a proposed 160 home and commercial development known as Kimball Hill withdrew its plans from the village.

Village President Walter R. Clarke said Kimball Hill and Sunny Day Properties withdrew plans to build on 106 acres of land at Route 12 and Old McHenry Road, 80 acres which would be designated for residences. The development drew fire from opponents for being too dense, and Clarke said it would have brought little tax revenue to the village. The Plan Commission denied the proposal, and the village board concurred, Clarke said. He does not think they will be back.

Schools need additions

School District 103 will be encouraging voters to pass two referenda in April that will focus on the district's increased enrollment projections. Approximately $8.2 million in building bonds will be issued to make additions to Half Day School and Daniel Wright Junior High School. Another referendum asks for a 15-cent tax increase in the education fund to help pay operating costs for larger enrollments projected. Voters narrowly defeated a referendum in November which called for a new middle school and additions to Daniel Wright. School officials said the April referenda proposals are about $5 million less than the November proposal.

Sheriff's Department is hoping for new officers

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Sheriff's Department is hoping to add four additional deputies under the COPS-AHEAD program. The federal program, created under the new federal crime act, provides for partial funding to pay for officers hired in a community policing capacity.

"These folks would be acting in a community policing capacity," said Undersheriff Gary Del Re. "It is a more proactive approach to crime prevention."

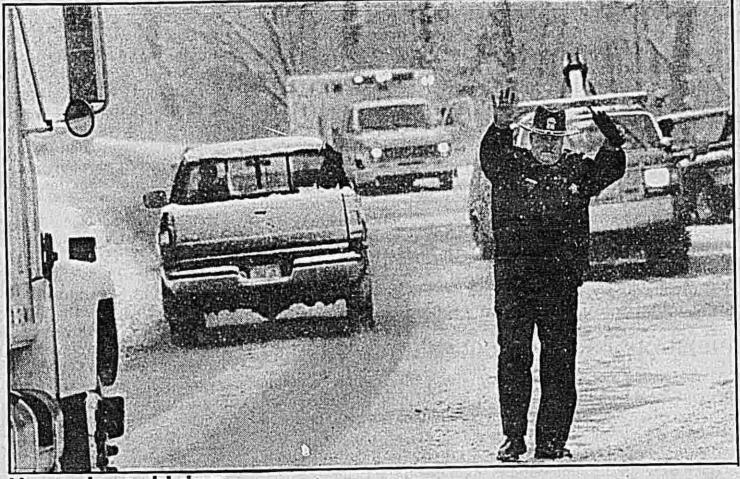

The department has almost completed an application which would provide 75 percent of the funding for four officers salaries in the first year. In the second year, 70 percent of the funding would be provided and in the third year, 65 percent.

One problem, however, is policy of the Lake County Board not to participate in matching fund programs. According to Del Re, the policy results from the tax cap. "They have not taken advantage of such grants," explained Del Re.

Del Re hopes the County will work around the problem. "It would be to our advantage to act on this," said Del Re. "Crime is the number one issue in both the County and the nation."

The Sheriff's Department has a grant committee working on the application. Del Re wants the County Board to look at the issue carefully.

Many other smaller municipalities have taken advantage of a similar program, COPS-FAST. These communities should have some information regarding their applications soon.

Peterson tapped to chair Senate Revenue Committee

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

State Sen. William Peterson will start his second term in the newly Republican-dominated upper house as chairman of the Illinois Senate Revenue Committee.

Peterson (R—Long Grove) said he was excited about his new appointment and was looking forward to calling his first committee meeting to order within the next couple of weeks.

"It is certainly a new challenge," he said.

While a member of the State House of Representatives, Peterson served on the revenue committee, and said he will bring a vast amount of experience to his new post.

"I think that was one of the major factors for my appointment," Peterson said.

He also served as minority spokesman for the House Energy and Environment Committee, and as vice chairman of the Senate Energy and Environment Committee the past two years.

"It is certainly a challenge," he said. "I have had many years experience in a committee leadership position." The Revenue Committee deals with revenue-related issues, such as property tax reform and tax code changes.

"It is a very important committee for operating and hearing of legislation in the senate," he said.

"The Revenue Committee conducted an in-depth review of the state's property tax system during the past two years, and we are going to continue to address the issues underscored by their work," he said.

"Among those issues is finding a better way to fund Illinois schools," Peterson stated. "We need to break our reliance on the property tax and find more creative ways to fund schools without overburdening taxpayers."

To that extent, one of the first issues the committee is likely to consider is instituting a property tax cap for Cook County. The cap would be identical to the one in the collar counties, where property tax increases have not exceeded 5 percent annually or the Consumer Price Index (CPI), whichever is less, since 1991.

An advisory referendum on the November ballot received nearly 85 percent approval from voters in Cook County, Peterson said. Since its inception, the tax has gone down to a low of 2.7 percent in 1994.

"I think it has worked very efficiently for the collar counties," said Peterson, who added he believes it will have no problem getting approval.

"It will be just as effective in lowering the property tax burden in Cook County as it has in Lake County," he said. Peterson was appointed to the position by Senate President James "Pate" Philip (R-Wood Dale).

Clayton vice-chair of executive committee

State Rep. Verna Clayton has announced that she has been appointed to four committees in the 89th session of the Illinois House.

Rep. Clayton will be vice-chairperson for the executive committee, and will serve on the insurance, elections and state government, and constitutional officers committees.

"I'm extremely pleased to have been appointed to four very important committees," said Clayton, a second-term Republican representative from Buffalo Grove. "Elections and State Government is one committee whose actions will be closely monitored by the general public, who are frustrated with the way campaigns are run these days. It will be nice to have a voice in the decisions made on that committee."

Clayton will have more influential input as vice chairperson of the executive committee, whose task is to review and make recommendations on legislation covering a wide range of issues.

"I spent the last two years as the minority party in the House, unsure about whether our legislation would ever make it out of committee," Clayton said. It's time to put partisan nonsense to rest, and do what's best for Illinois. I look forward to two productive years."

LaCASA needs volunteers from across county

Volunteers are needed for Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault/LaCASA's countywide programs. LaCASA is the only organization which provides residents throughout Lake Co. with comprehensive support programs, including child assault prevention (CAP), community education, 24-hour hotline, 24-hour medical and police advocacy, and court advocacy.

No experience is necessary, but a deep desire to help those in need is crucial. Classes are now forming for LaCASA's Volunteer Training which will be Feb. 23 to April 13 at the Condell Conference Center in Libertyville. LaCASA's seven-week volunteer training program includes classes on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m., with one Saturday class on April 1 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

For more information, call Joanie Dovekas, LaCASA Crisis Intervention Liaison, at 244-1187.

Absentee voting in Lake County primaries now open

Lake County Clerk Willard Rooks Helander announced that absentee voting has begun for the Consolidated Primary Election to be held on Feb. 28. Absentee ballot applications and ballots are available in person or by mail from the County Clerk's office at 18 N. County St., Waukegan, IL 60085. Absentee voting will close at 5 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 27.

This year only four municipalities are holding primary elections: City of Highland Park; City of Zion; City of North Chicago Ward 1; and City of Waukegan Wards 1, 2, 4, 6 and 7.

For questions about obtaining an absentee ballot application and absentee voting, call the Lake County Clerk's office, Absentee Voting Dept., at 360-5912.

IRS makes several changes for returns

People will notice a number of changes when they open their 1994 federal tax packages, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Some of these changes raise or lower taxes for some people. But most people will stay in the same tax rate bracket in 1994 as a year ago. That's because these brackets, along with standard deduction and personal exemption amounts, are adjusted each year to keep pace with inflation. The tax rates are: 15, 28, 31, 36, and 39.6 percent.

Here are some changes to look for. The federal tax package contains more information on these and other changes. Also, use the order blank in the tax package to obtain any of more than 100 free IRS publications.

•The Earned Income Credit for low and moderate income working families is more generous and easier to figure. Married couples with children and single parents who made less than $25,296 during 1994 usually qualify. The top credit is $2,528, up more than $150 from last year. The names, social security numbers, and other information on qualifying children still need to be shown on Schedule EIC. But the form has shrunk from a full two pages long to less than a page, and the number of tables needed to figure the credit is cut from three to just one. See Publication 596.

•This year for the first time, many low income workers without children can get a limited version of the Earned Income Credit. Singles and married couples with incomes below $9,000 can claim a credit of up to $306. Only those ages 25 to 64 who are not someone else's dependent qualify. The shortest IRS form, 1040EZ, can even be used to take this credit.

•The standard mileage rate for business or work-related use of a car is up a penny to 29 cents a mile. See Publication 917.

•Some three million employees who have various unreimbursed job-related expenses can save paperwork by claiming them on a shorter IRS form. The new Form 2106-EZ is just 11 lines long compared to the 38 lines found on the regular 2106 form for showing employee business expenses.

•The revised moving expense deduction is now available to people who use the standard deduction. Previously, only those who itemized their deductions could take it. But various items, such as pre-move house hunting expenses, can no longer be claimed. See Publication 521.

•A record keeping change affects people who deduct contributions to charity. For each donation of $250 or more, the giver must get a written acknowledgment from the charity before claiming it. A canceled check alone is no longer good enough. Ordinarily, each payment counts as a separate donation. See Publication 526.

•Some three million individuals and couples who receive social security or equivalent railroad retirement benefits begin paying tax on a larger portion, up to 85 percent, of their benefits. This change applies to singles with incomes above $34,000 and couples with incomes of more than $44,000. The tax package has a worksheet for figuring the taxable portion. Others continue paying tax on up to half their benefits. For most people, however, these benefits remain tax-free. See Publication 915.

Since the abduction, Montalbano has been not only searching for her own children, but has devoted many hours to help others in a similar situation. "This woman has worked hard," explained Epifanio. Montalbano has been working with Epifanio's agency to establish a local office of the Minnesota Center of Missing Children.

Epifanio and Associates has also been active in efforts to keep children safe. Project KidCare kits are available at the office free of charge. As a matter of fact, Montalbano was hired as a sales consultant in October of 1994 after working with the agency on missing children projects earlier that summer.

A $5,000 reward had been offered for the return of the children. Epifanio and Associates doubled that reward to $10,000.

The agency has also established a trust fund. "It is for the welfare of the family," said Epifanio. Anyone wishing to donate should contact the State Bank of the Lakes, Montalbano Trust. The address is 974 Main Street, Antioch, IL, 60002.

Volunteer Center to sponsor outcome-based evaluation seminar for volunteer programs

The Volunteer Center of United Way of Lake Co., in cooperation with the Univ. of Ill. Cooperative Extension Service, is providing local sponsorship of a satellite videoconference titled "Volunteers=Results: Using Outcome-Based Evaluation Methods to Show Volunteer Impact."

The videoconference will introduce participants to the basic concepts of outcome-based evaluation and explore how the technique can be used with volunteers.

The program will be held on Thursday, Feb. 9, from 12:45 to 3:30 p.m. at the College of Lake Co., Room C003. Registration deadline is Friday, Feb. 3. All volunteer coordinators, non-profit staff and other interested individuals are invited to attend. There is no fee.

For more information, or to register, call Laurie Goldstein at the Volunteer Center of United Way of Lake Co., 816-0063.

Boys basketball begins at family YMCA

Savings stance endorsed at CLC

Overshadowed in all the hoopla last year involved in celebrating the 25th anniversary of the College of Lake County was a decision of the board of trustees to rebid construction on two new buildings because the bids came in about $5 million over the original estimate of $24.5 million.

Did you hear that taxpayers? Cost cutting in the public sector these days is worth mentioning. CLC trustees sent architects back to the drawing boards for some design changes that resulted in $3 million savings. New bids will be opened in a few weeks and construction is planned to begin this spring.

No matter how you cut it, the underpinning of a quality education program is solid financing. Trustees approved a three-year tuition and fee increase plan. Chairperson Barbara Oilschlager says the student senate overwhelmingly supported the plan. Ah, young minds are learning the value of fiscal responsibility.

In summing up the past year, President Daniel J.
LaVista called 1994 an "extraordinary year." LaVista undoubtedly was thinking of CLC's academic achievements and the memorable quarter century anniversary celebration. But you can't blame electors if they were thinking of the college's careful use of tax dollars, all $35.4 million that came into school coffers.

Business tee time casts some doubts

The Regional Economic Partnership of southeast Wisconsin is conducting a campaign to lure Illinois business with the theme, "Tee Up for Savings," complete with a packet of golf tees. The campaign should be entitled, "Tee Off on Illinois." Our neighbors to the north really know how to hurt!

Wisconsin promoters list typical savings (their figures, not ours) as an average of 30% on electricity, up to 60% on worker's compensation costs, land prices 50% to 75% less than Chicago metropolitcan area and lower living ("at least 12%") costs.

We won't argue about electricity. Commonwealth Edison knows how to charge. But the other so-called savings are debatable. Gov. Edgar and General Assembly Republicans likely will make Illinois worker's comp costs lighter with new legislation. As for land prices, it's the old real estate story of location, location, location. You like working in the boonies? Yeah, if you eat a lot of cheese, maybe your living costs will be lower.

Granted, a few Lake County companies have jumped across the stateline in recent years. But the attraction for doing business in Illinois is the proximity to markets and services.

Not to worry, Wisconsin. We like the way you're reforming welfare and advancing school choice. Now if something could be done about those unfair differentials in out-of-state hunting and fishing licenses, maybe there would be something to talk about.

Give credit to major league baseball owners for correctly gauging favorable public response to plans for opening the 1995 season with replacement players and rookies if striking unionists don't come to terms.

Here's one fan who will purchase a discounted ticket to see a baseball game in a major league park even though the guys on the field might be a bunch of nobodies. Why not?

Baseball is baseball. If you're a fan, you can enjoy a game whether the contestants are Little Leaguers, high school players, a college team or the hometown semi-pros. Baseball is baseball.

So it's interesting to note that the owners have contingency plans to open the season whether or not the strike is settled.

Without a doubt, the owners have looked with interest upon the work continuation in Peoria where Caterpillar is building tractors—and making profits—with replacement employees while strikers picket.

A lot of new Cats are being sold.
Obviously, the buyers don't give a hoot that the equipment was built by non-union workers. Major

Value of school nurses

Editor:

While the case load of most school nurses is made up primarily of "well children," there is a significant population of children with disorders ranging from Attention Deficit Disorder (with or without hyperactivity) to seizure disorders, asthma, insulin dependent diabetes mellitus, HIV/AIDS, cancer, tracheostomies, gastrostomies, ad infinitum. The school nurse must network with the child, the parents, the physician(s), various health care facilities and community resources as well as teachers and school administrators in order to develop a health care plan for each individual child.

If "well children" are in the majority, why do they need a specialty nurse? Even healthy children have episodes of illness or injury, during which the nurse uses assessment skills, provides treatment and knowledge of community resources, while making use of opportunities to teach prevention and safety.

One cannot assume that all, or even most, children have access to a pediatrician or family practice physician. For many children and their families, their primary and most consistent contact with the health care system is through the school nurse. It seems obvious, then, that school nursing must be not only well-meaning but well qualified.

Listen to residents

Editor:

As a resident of Lake Zurich who was going to be severely affected by Village Square II, I am writing to remind people that the trustees who supported this project are up for election. Now is the time to evaluate who will most adequately represent us and our concerns on development.

Clearly, the seated trustees do not see our concerns as valid. In the upcoming election we must seat elected officials who are more in tune with our preferences on how the village should be developed. Village Square II will be back. Now is our opportunity to seat responsive trustees who will listen to the residents and not only to the developers.

Two kinds of liberals

Editor:

I have a comment on the cartoon by Brookins which appeared in the Jan. 6 issue.

It portrays President Clinton as still persisting in a liberal position. I don't disagree with the truth of it, but I must take note of the use of the term "liberal." There are, in fact, at least two kinds of liberals.

First, the 1940 to 1970 types who were and are interested in such issues as social security, unemployment compensation, the minimum wage, the UN, health care, civil rights and unions. Then there are the 1980 plus "new" liberals, whose interests are in such individual issues as abortion rights, gay-lesbian rights, rights for disabled persons, minority rights and AIDS. Distinctly different from the earlier type of liberal.

Let's not confuse things and color all liberals with the same brush. If Clinton had stuck with the early liberals he might have led the Democrats to victory. By rashly espousing extreme "new" mediahyped causes—and ignoring the fact that the great national debate concerning these issues is by no means over—he appeared to abandon the large bread and butter issues that preoccupy anxious workers today,

Madigan bemoans new era under Republican dominance

Good old Mike Madigan. Now that he's no longer House speaker in the General Assembly, he's taken to writing editors with all the new found time on his hands.

In Madigan's first literary missive (more are expected), the powerful Democrat raises the specter of wealthy businessmen being in cahoots with those rascal Republicans to victimize all sorts of folks-injured workers, victims of drunk drivers, unwary consumers, and so forth. Get the drift?

Mike's at his best exploiting class differences.

"If you are not a wealthy businessman, the protections and rights we have come to expect and enjoy will be drastically affected on this fast track plan (GOP agenda). I have come to believe we will be backtracking into the past."

So much for the minority party. Thought you'd like to know.

Someone's missing-A key figure from the popular Lincoln Day dinner, an annual the Lake Zurich village board

be a stretch for Gordy to make the dinner at Maravella's.

Get there early—Seats are expected to fill up fast at Waukegan City Hall Saturday when Congressman John Porter (R-10th) holds his first public forum of the year. Questioning will kick off at 10 a.m. Now that he's a majority insider, Porter will be offering a new perspective for his popular forum series.

Going farther—A seat on isn't the end of the political line for Trustee Larry Coffey. He's turning up for a second term, but Coffey isn't shy about talking about a career in public office. Ask him about running for Congress one of these days.

Hurts so good—Democrats must be gluttons for punishment. Waukegan Mayor Bill Durkin led a delegation of party faithful doing double duty as Bear fans to San Francisco. Outside of the mugging from the 49ers and a monsoon, the Lake County invaders in Blue and Orange had a great time. No jokes about being losers, please!

Mr. Lean- It was clear before the November elections State Representative Salvi (R-Wauconda) is a proponent of smaller, less expensive government. He has continued his outspoken Barkhausen ways to trim the fat. "The government keeps getting its fingers into more of our natural lives. November was a wake up call," he said.

Choosing slates-The municipal election campaign in Hawthorn Woods could be one of the more interesting, even though it is one of the smaller villages in Lake County.

Andy Bitta and Thomas

Beveridge have formed a three-man slate with newcomer Arnold Epstein. The threesome will defend the village's decision to terminate its affiliation with the Corridor Planning Council, which is working with tollway authorities over the proposed Route 53 extension. The trio will also support commercial development that coincides with the village's rural character.

Another three-person slate has Valerie Kahn, Bruce Harris and Jeff Meyer work-together. ing Although they oppose the Rtc. 53 extension, they want Hawthorn Woods to remain a player in the decision making of the CPC. This threesome also supports commercial development that will draw more revenue to the Emiling village's tax base.

> Incumbent Thomas Thrawl and newcomer Florence Emling will be fighting for the three trustee seats as indepen> > dents.

Party Lines will be keeping tabs on the campaign in Hawthorn Woods.

Leadership roles- State Senator David N. Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) has been named to the Senate's Industry Commerce and Committee and Judiciary Committee for the 89th General Assembly. These appointments were made just one week after Barkhausen was appointed chairman of the Senate's Financial Institutions Committee. Seems, the North Shore senator is becoming more noticed by state officials. The judicial committee chairman was indicted last years for abusing office perks.

Battle of the barowners- The owner of Juke Box Sports Bar on Stanton Point Rd., was adamant when asked if he had any apprehension about another sports saloon that just opened up on Rte. 59 in Ingleside. Bill Kent said he wasn't worried in the least, and summed up the new Jimmy V.'s sports bar as "a pool hall which motorcycle draws guys." Jim the Valenziano, owner of the new tavern, gloated about the 20-TV's he has in the business. Kent said he has seven TV's, but has some "big plans in the future" for something unique. Kent did say his secret idea calls for approval from the health department.

No surprise- Two out of three Americans do not favor cuts in federal education programs according to results from a Washington Post-ABC News poll being touted by the Department of Education. According to poll results Americans want a smaller, more efficient government and strongly support investments in education. As with other polls, nothing new here.

Party having a party— The Lake County Democratic Central Committee invites the public to attend a fun-filled Democratic get-together, Feb. 2 at Zanies Comedy Club in Vernon Hills. A donation of $10 will be accepted at the door. For more information call Kathy Ryg at 367-3705 or Arlene Demb 432-1198.

Village punishes school with closings

Editor:

I am a Carmel High School senior, and I am writing in response to the Village of Mundelein's decision to close both back entrances to Carmel, leaving Rte. 176 the only access route to the school. I believe this will do more harm than good and will do little to alleviate the problem.

The Village of Mundelein claims this action was taken on behalf of a select few violators. Not all the violators are Carmel students, though. Some are commuters who travel through Fairhaven Subdivision to avoid the already crowded Rte. 176. The closure of Carmel High School's exists will do little to discourage their travel habits. Traveling on the back roads is not totally inaccessible to one leaving Carmel, anyway. By turning left on Rte. 176, then making another left on the side street, Brice, one can once again travel through the neighborhood.

This act, made to punish Carmel, will consequently inconvenience many more. Commuters traveling on Rtc. 176 will have to deal with extreme traffic delays, as those exiting Carmel gamble for the dangerous left hand turn. Several accidents have already occurred and travel time out of the parking lot is approximately 20 minutes to a half hour.

Unless the village plans to install a traffic light or place a policeman at the entrance to ensure the safety and convenience of all Mundelein residents and commuters, I feel this aggression on Carmel High School should be stopped. It is unfair and will be unsuccessful.

Medication management is key to controlling high blood pressure

High blood pressure, also known as hypertension, is the most prevalent medical condition among adults in the U.S. today. The good news is that high blood pressure can usually be controlled. Although people with high blood pressure rarely feel III, it is important to detect and treat high blood pressure early on to avoid a more serious condition such as heart failure, kidney failure or stroke.

Lifestyle modifications are often among a doctor's first instructions to high blood pressure patients. Recommendations may include changes in diet, losing weight, regular exercise and quitting smoking.

A doctor may also recommend medlcation as an effective choice for many people with high blood pressure. Managing this medication properly is essential to controlling high blood pressure and to avoid potential problems, such as drug interactions and adverse drug reactions.

People taking high blood pressure medication need to take the medicine precisely as directed by their doctor or pharmacist. They need to read labels carefully, follow instructions for use and storage, and keep track of the medications they are taking, including over-thecounter preparations, to minimize potential problems such as drug interactions and adverse drug reactions.

A drug interaction can occur when taking two or more medicines at the same time. An interaction may strengthen the effect of a drug, diminish it or keep it from working at all. While some predictable interactions are actually used by doctors to your advantage; other combinations can cause serious, unanticipated side effects such as dizzlness, Insomnia, nausea and increased blood pressure or heart rate. While an adverse drug reaction can also produce unintended, undestrable side effects, these effects can occur when only one drug is taken. Both prescription and nonprescription medications can cause drug interactions or adverse reactions.

The common cold affects many people on the average of twice a year and most of these cold sufferers treat themselves with over-the-counter remedies. People taking medication for high blood pressure should be especially cautious with their medication during the cold and flu season, since some cold medications pose an increased risk of drug Interaction for these individuals.

Experts encourage people on medication for high blood pressure to consult with their doctor or pharmacist when starting a new medication or selecting medication for self-treatment. They suggest starting with the following questions. Questions for your doctor

- What is the name of the medication I am taking?
- What is the reason for taking this medication?
- How long will It take to relieve my
- symptoms? What should I do If the medication
- does not relieve my symptoms? Is this medicine likely to interact with other medications I am already taking?
- How often am I supposed to take It and for how long?
- What should I do if I miss a dose?
- What should I do If I experience an allergic reaction or adverse reaction? Questions for your pharmacist

- Is the medication likely to Interact with other medications I am taking?
  - How many doses do I take per day? Are there specific times of day I - should take this medication? Does it matter if I take it before or after meals?

- Are there side effects I should look for? Are there special instructions to fol- low when taking this medication?
  - How should I store this medication? When does this medication expire?

Do I have any refills on this prescription?

Law-related new year's resolutions can start the year off right

Many people who make new year's resolutions often overlook law-related resolutions, but the end of the year is actually the perfect time to conduct a "legal check-up," according to Naomi Schuster, vice chair of the general practice section of the Illinois State Bar Assn. (ISBA).

"Most people are conscious of the importance of a medical check-up, but when it comes to taking care of personal legal matters, they fall short," sald Schuster, an attorney who practices in Palos Heights.

In conducting a legal check-up,

Schuster offers the following advice:

 Make certain you have a will. Anyone with assets needs a properly prepared will, she says. "Don't overlook adding the name of a guardian if your children are still minors," she says, For those who already have a will, she recommends reviewing it annually to ensure It's up-to-date.

 Consider a living will and living trust, but be careful who drafts the document. A living will is a directive indicating who will handle your personal health matters, should you become Incapacitated. A living trust provides for management of a person's assets dur-Ing their lifetime and after death without the necessity of court intervention. and may save significant estate tax. *An attorney is the best person to advise about whether either of these tools will benefit an Individual," says Schuster.

 Be knowledgeable about tax law changes. Arrange your financial affairs to minimize the tax bite after the income tax deadline April 15, "A person may want to consider seeking advice from a lawyer who specializes in tax laws," Schuster adds.

 Review your insurance policies and determine if they are sufficient to cover any loss. Check your liability limits, loss limits on property, and the types of losses covered.

 Make sure all legal papers are together and In a safe place, These include Items such as a mortgage, will, leases, passports and Inform a trusted person of the location.

 Vow that you will not sign a contract or any legally-binding document without having a lawyer review it. "The world is filled with people who signed contracts they regret," she sald. "It's worth the minor expense involved to have a lawyer review contracts for major purchases such as a home or an automobile."

 Check your personal credit report. Everyone is entitled to one free check of their own report each year. "Credit reports are notorious for containing inaccurate information which could hurt you," says Schuster. Check your Yellow Pages for the phone number of your local credit bureau. If your credit report does contain inaccuracies, she adds, you will need to contact whoever reported the Information to have it corrected.

 When making end-of-year charitable donations, always do so by check, not cash. It is best to give to charities with which you are familiar. If you do have questions about a charity, you can obtain further information from the trust division of the Illinois Attorney General's office.

· When preparing to hire an attorney, be sure to ask in advance about his or her fees. "Fear of the cost involved is one reason people fall to seek out an attorney when they should," says Schuster. "Don't be afraid to ask the cost and to obtain more than one estimate if necessary."

Schuster advises those in need of an attorney to obtain a referral through friends or family, or consider using a lawyer referral service. The Illinois State Bar Assn. Illinois Lawyer Referral Service can be reached by calling 1-800-252-8916.

The 32,000 member Illinois State Bar Assn., with offices in Springfield and Chicago, provides professional services to Illinois lawyers, and education and services to the public.

AARP holds driving refresher course

The 55 Alive/Mature Driving program, a refresher course of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), took place at the American Legion Hall in Grayslake on Jan. 19 and 20. This course is designed to help older drivers sharpen their driving skills to avoid accidents and Is offered to motorists age 50 and older throughout the country.

The eight-hour course is offered in two half-day sessions, and there is an enrollment fee of $8 per person. Illinols law, however, requires all auto insurance carriers to offer a discount on premlums to persons age 55 and older who obtain a completion certificate from approved courses such as the 55 Allve/Mature Driving program. Policyholders should contact their insurance carriers for more specific information about such discounts.

The program was sponsored by the Grayslake Park Dist., AARP and Kelly Jennings of Allstate Insurance Company in Grayslake. There were 24 people in attendance, despite the winter snowstorm and, because of the success of the class, additional classes will be offered in Grayslake. If you are interested in attending a future 55 Alive/Mature Driving program, contact Jennings at 548-0060.

Upservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers, Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Reconsider agenda

I wonder why Marilyn Sheinflug, Antioch mayor, removed the York House Road presentation from the village February agenda. Isn't how our county spends $12 million or more of our road repair dollars for an unneeded Depke project important to all Lake County residents? Is she helping Depke try to sweep this county Issue under the table? We have county road needs all over the county, including our area, that will go undone for this three-quarter mile of road through a forest preserve. It's time we all find out the facts. It does affect everyone. I encourage her to reconsider her decision.

Playing catch-up

In regards to the Dec. 30 Lipservice about personal time use of Lake County vehicles, I agree they should have a central location to park vehicles to save thousands of dollars in tax money. I would also say they don't need to go out there working at Super K-mart, Walmart, antique shops, even buying groceries and putting them in our own Lake County cars. Some of these people occasionally work Saturdays to catch up on their behind work. These people know who they are.

Down the drain

Others here in Fox Lake agree that our village officials should be ashamed of themselves. They are letting our village go down the drain. Yet, it is still paying their salaries, but the people see only raises in property taxes, new Christmas decor, and raises for the officials.

Keep cat away

This is a message to my neighbor in Ingleside. We've been neighbors and friends for a long time, and I really like you. I don't want to make you mad and I don't want you as an enemy, but a friend. But, please do all of us a favor in this neighborhood, and keep your cat in your yard or house. I have several bird feeders and I put out food for the birds because I enjoy watching them. I'm not putting food out there to trap the birds so your cat can go out and kill them. It upsets me when I go out and find your cat stalking these birds and then find plles of feathers at the end of the day. Please keep your cat at home. It doesn't belong in my yard, killing my birds.

Wauconda nepotism

It seems that mud slinging has already started in the Wauconda Trustee election campaign. Forget the mud, ask the questions! Mr. Stanger, how come once you were appointed to the Public Works Committee, your father suddenly got a job there? How long was he on a waiting list? What qualifications does he have for the Job? Wouldn't a younger employee have been a better investment for the village? Come on Rick, climb off your high horse. You're not interested in the village unless it's for personal gain!

Control your kids

To the parents of the grade-school aged children that wait inside an apartment building in Grayslake for their school bus: Do you realize that your kids are badly misbehaved, and at 7:30 a.m., they are yelling, playing, tumbling, and stampeding up and down the stairs and halls of this apartment building, with no regard for the respect and privacy of the residents there? How would you like it if a gang of children stomped and pounded outside your door when you and your newborn infant are trying to sleep? I suggest you implement some oldfashioned discipline. I am taking up this issue with the school district and will not stop until your precious angels are waiting outside at their bus stop, where they should bel

Observe the law

I'm calling to complain about the lack of public parking in downtown Grayslake. The Tastee Freeze is a private lot and is clearly marked so, yet many of the employees of the downtown Grayslake businesses use this lot for their parking, in an effort to stop access to the parking lot, whenever it snows Tastee Freeze piles snow up to the alley, which limits access to and from the lot, in addition to businesses there. understand this reasoning and their frustration, but this in turn causes additional problems with access, especially for emergency vehicles. No one observes the speed limits in this alley, including the police, who Just fly through. To make matters worse, you can't park on Center St. for more than two hours without getting a ticket. The mayor needs to wake up and realize the problems this lack of parking space is causing. In the meantime, let's all take into consideration our neighborhood and fellow business owners, and observe the laws.

Kirby is great

I recently moved to the unincorporated part of the Round Lake school district from Round Lake. Kim Kirby was the teacher for my son, and he was one of the most brilliant teachers my son has ever had. He had previously been having a lot of difficulties and now is performing exceptionally well. I can't praise him as a teacher too highly. The current superintendent, Mary Davis, manages to take home $100,000 all by herself, and doesn't have a single hour in a year of contact with schoolchildren. The only contact I am aware that she has had is to call the police on some of the high school students who were exercising their civil rights. As for anyone being compared to Hitler, surely that honor must go to another gentleman, Tim Holt, the school board president.

Can you answer?

In reply to the 'Free to Choose' article and all the responses it got. I am the one who called in originally, and I want to say that none of the other callers answered my question of what would we do with a million more bables each year? And the question of adoption, what about the children that are up for adoption? Not every baby born is a white baby. There are millions of minority babies and children that are up for adoption every year, and they're still not adopted. What would we do with a million more? As far as it being God's will, and God having anything to do with a woman's right to choose, First of all, that's a moral decision. And there's a separation between church and state, mean-Ing a separation between God and state. Just that the government should legislate that you have to have an abortion, nor should they legislate that you cannot have an abortion. Instead of stopping it legally, why not reach out to people in a fashion that will not hinder their rights? Why start at the end, legislating abortion, when really it should be started in the middle and leave the women to make their choice. It's actually our right. And if you do it legally, then it will be done anyway, only women will be getting hurt.

Get a lawyer

To a certain parent in Fox Lake, I must address this issue with you concerning a recent scuffle in an after-school practice. Personally, I feel that running around screaming "lawsult, lawsult," Is pitiful and certainly not in the best interest of your son. We all know you're experienc-Ing financial troubles, it shows, but this is not your opportunity for personal gain. If you concentrate on keeping your man out of the bars and at his job, you wouldn't use every minor opportunity to sue, sue, sue, instead of getting to the heart of the matter and settling this In an appropriate matter, you've selfishly and shamefully tried to blow it out of proportion. Turn to God for the answer to your problems, not a lawyer.

Free at last?

I saw this in a magazine and thought It would be appropriate: We are free at last in this new age, we are free to ravage and to rage. A free press we have, and a freer stage. We tolerate no doctoral change, we talk and write without restrain. And teach and preach what we would felgn. We are free to shout, we are free to yell, we are free to rlot and rebel. We are free at last to go to hell.

A place to play

The Wauconda senior looking for a place to get together to play cards, check out Harmony Village, From what I understand, they're putting in a Senior Services and Recreation building in Phase Two of their mobile home park. It's great to see developers with their act together. How about the village doing the same?

No undue quilt

I might be under a misconception, but according to what I read in your paper last week concerning the death of a child, I was under the impression that it was a father driving his two children to school in the fog. Not that he was speeding or negligent, but that it was an accident, pure and simple. The weather was bad, It was foggy, the child did not look and ran out into the road. Perhaps there are a lot of speeders, but don't make someone feel guiltier than they already do. They have to live with that.

Editor's Note: An Item appearing in Lipservice was critical of speeding drivers. The driver in this accident was not speeding and has not been issued any citations.

I've been a resident of Fox Lake for six year. I'd like to thank the Fox Lake street department on the wonderful Job they did on the snow, especially this past Jan. 19. This is neither pro-choice or pro-life, but I'm getting a little tired of the reli- . first! glous right calling in with their little Biblical quotations, If someone would bother to stop and re-read Genesis, the punishment of Eve for the original sin, was to be able to bear children: it was not in God's original plan for Adam and Eve to have offspring, it was part of a punishment. It's not a blessing, it's a punishment. If you're going to read the Bible, read it. Don't Just st there and listen to someone else's interpretation.

Let us have fun

This is a message to the police of Lake County. This isn't to stir up trouble, but why can't teenagers have any fun without being harassed by police? Or constantly being pulled over for no reason except being a teenager. Yes, we like to go out to parties, drink a little, and have a little fun in our teenage years. But why don't you do something about the drugs in this county than get a teenager in trouble with their parents? If you can't find anything else to do than to harass, then I guess you have no choice than to ruin our lives.

Kids on drugs

To all the people that live in ingleside (including Fox Lake), instead of worrying about train whistles and who's digging ditches and getting off birth control and everything, you should realize that children are really into drugs and the majority of the Grant Township schools allow children to use drugs, because what a colnicldence, there are several children in Ingleside that have come to my house with drug addiction. It's really upsetting that you can't trust a child anymore because they're either on drugs or alcohol. Parents, beware, be alert, wakn up and watch over your children and take care of them.

Walk the walk

I read the letter to the editor from the vice-president of Best, and I read Vern's letter in the newspaper this week. My question is, are you guys going to run for the school board? You've got all these wonderful ideas, you think you're so Important, you think everything's going to be taken care of, but you're all talk and no show. If you're going to do something about it, then really do something. Stop writing letters and run for the school board. Let's see how you do. Put up or shut up!

No God's will

I'd like to know who the hell these anti-choice people think they are? There's no such thing as God's will, If you're put on this earth, you're put on this earth, period. What happens after that is up to you as an individual. Nobody else can tell you what to do. These people trying to impose their moral code on everybody make me sick! Why don't they just mind their own business and take care of the people who are starving on this planet right now. It's not up to you or me, it's up to the individual and their conscience, nobody else's. So mind your own business!

Help Americans

I just got done watching the 10 o'clock news and I think it's just wonderful that the United States can help the Japanese after their earthquake, but what I cannot understand is why the states cannot help their own people when they need help. My sister has cancer and no insurance and no income coming In, but she was told by the state that since she has no little kids at home, she can only have food stamps, not any medical help to get the surgery she needs. They also told her that if she was an illegal allen or from a forelgn country, she could get help right away. Let's help Americans

A safe alternative

You anti-abortion people really drive me nuts. You act like woman are lining up to get abortions because it's so much fun, everybody get one! If you people would leave them alone, everybody would be just fine. It's one of the hardest decisions any woman has to make, and I know because I know someone who had to go through It and believe me, It's no fun. I'd rather they have a safe alternative than to bring a child into this world that no one wants.

Make some sense

who believes all conception is God's will, even if unwanted, if conception Is always God's will, then sickness and death, the other end of the spectrum, must also be God's will. Then we should close all healthcare facilities, since it's obvious that God doesn't want us to Interfere anywhere in the life cycle, it's the same logic. It doesn't make sense. While the miracle of conception is certainly a gift from God, it is man's duty to wisely use his gifts, and not allow unwanted conceptions and deaths to cause the misery they often do.

Call the FCC

I've got a grip about 'City Kid' in the Jan. 20 edition. Whoever wrote that, he's got a lot more people that want to kick his you-know-what. There's a lot of other people that wish he would get off the air. He's a real Jerk. I wish the FCC or somebody would arrest him because he uses foul language and always tries to pick fights, which is against the FCC rules. The FCC should track him down. I'm not the only one that's got a gripe. This guy needs to get kicked off the air by the FCC.

No clue

Whoever said there's only one board member is saying or doing anything for the Gavin schools is baloney. Maybe there's two or three, definitely not the whole board. I do feel that there are way too many persons with their own agenda working hand in hand with the school board and not allowing other people's opinions to work. As a whole, this board doesn't have any idea what's going on or the day to day needs of the district. As for the vupple statement, get a grip. Anyone who lives in Gavin's school district really could not be a real yupple. If they think they're superior, It's because you're allowing them to, think that!

Check backgrounds

'Clean House' said to remember the strike when the Round Lake election comes around. A better thing to do Is make sure the candidate you choose has no ties to the teachers or their unions. Check their backgrounds and see who's supporting them. The teachers do not need a representative on the school board who may reward them unlimited pay raises. After all, that's why they have a union.

Take a journey into time at the Lake County Museum

Lake County, with its lakes, rolling hills, lush forest preserves and quaint towns, has long been a popular resort area. One favorite tourist stop, Wauconda, is home to one of the largest history institutions in the Chicago suburbs: The Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum. Located in the Lakewood Forest Preserve, the museum is surrounded by the lakes, ponds and greenery typical of Lake County.

In the spring and summer, the museum's white frame and concrete buildings stand out in brilliant contrast to the rich green of the forest preserve. In the winter, they blend into the backdrop of white snow. It is in this peaceful setting that the history of Lake County is preserved, researched and made available to the community.

The Lake County Museum began as a private institution in Wadsworth. In 1965, the significant historical collection was purchased by the county, and in 1976 the Lake County Forest Preserves opened the Lake County Museum to the public.

Since then, the museum's staff and volunteers have actively developed its mission to collect, preserve, interpret and present the history of Lake County within the broad context of North American change.

The museum's vast and unique collections contain over 20,000 objects including Native American beadwork, Victorian costumes and the Fort Sheridan military collection. The museum also houses a regional history archive that includes 1,500 volumes of local and regional history and over 10,000 individual manuscripts, business records, personal papers, maps, photographs and school histories. The museum's Curt Teich Postcard Archives contains over 380,000 postcards and is the largest publicly held collection of view and advertising cards in the United States.

A number of objects from these collections are on exhibit to give viewers a chronological history of Lake County. A 420 million-year-old fossil rock found in Lincolnshire marks the beginning of the journey into Lake County's history. Visitors also will see a new exhibit of the history of Native Americans in Lake County entitled "The Enduring Spirit." Exhibits presenting farm life of the early European settlers in Lake County, replicas of a blacksmith shop and store fronts, horse drawn transportation vehicles, and postcards from the Curt Teich Postcard Archives are also on display. School children enjoy the exhibits through the many education programs offered by the museum.

The museum also offers award winning special events throughout the year. The Farm Heritage and Steam Show, held in September, won a Certificate of Commendation from the Midwest Museum Conference. The museum also features temporary exhibits, such as "The Booker T. Washington Club," which is currently on display and features rare photographs from one of Lake County's first social organizations for African Americans:

The scenic location, historic buildings, unique collections, exhibits and public programs all make the Lake County Museum a "must see" Lake County attraction.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176 just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Hours are Sunday 1 to 4:30 p.m. and Monday through Saturday 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and 75 cents for students. To make a research appointment in the Regional History Archives or the Curt Teich Postcard Archives, to schedule a school tour, or for general information, call the Lake County Museum at 526-7878.

'Together We Can' making a difference for youth

KEVIN HANRAHAN

"Together We Can."

From DARE to "Just Say No" to Students Against Drunk Drivers, drug and alcohol awareness programs are rampant across elementary and secondary school campuses. Officer friendly, sports heroes and sociologists commonly frequent classrooms to explain the risks of drug and alcohol abuse.

through community involvement outside the classroom. Not only does it include school-related programs. The results of the survey provided not only data regarding parental attitudes on area voutball.

programs, Together We Can targets and welcomes businesses, local governments, churches and families to offer their input as well.

The very words "Together" and "We" imply a community-wide effort to spread awareness and to capitalize on the positives that are often overlooked.

Quite simply, the goal is to provide "for a partnership through schools, parents, the community and youth to strengthen families and to create and support a healthy, drug-free lifestyle," according to Linda Kurtzman of the Stevenson Community Together We Can program.

Instead of simply preaching alternatives to drugs, Together We Can works with local park districts, churches and businesses in offering after-school sporting activities, youth spiritual groups and business-sponsored events or work programs. The council publishes programs regularly to assure peers can find activities with other drug-free peers.

"You look at the strengths of the community and you make them stronger," Kurtzman said. "It's a partnership and comprehensive approach to assist youth."

"Where there is a need, we'll find a program or an activity," Kurtzman insists.

Although established in 1991, Together We Can became certified as a not-for-profit organization in January which will better enable it to pursue additional partnerships with businesses to raise funds.

Its comprehensive approach reaches out to all 17 communities—from Palatine and Buffalo Grove to Prairie View and Vernon Hills-that serve Stevenson High School District 125. The Together We Can Community Council just administered a survey of 200 families living in the Stevenson

High School District. And the results of which will be published in an all-maybe even surprise a few people. It also lets people know there are healthy lifestyles being practiced in this area," said David Stolman, a County Board member from Buffalo Grove who is also president of Together We Can.

For example, despite the popular belief that peer pressure is the determining factor in a child's decision making, 84 percent of the parents surveyed believe that they can influence their child's decision to associate with drug-free peers. In other words, "an educated parent means a prepared student."

In another instance, many parents often struggle with the thought of calling other parents to see if they are home when their high school-age teen is attending a house party. The survey points out that 97 percent of all parents would be upset if another parent served alcohol to their child. Along those lines, the survey further suggests that one of the best ways for parents to feel empowered is to take a firm stand and work with other parents.

"The goal of this is to get parents to realize their strengths in numbers," Kurtzman said. "It will help parents give that boost of security to make that call."

Together We Can communicates its message primarily through networking. Subcommittees include parental networking, clergy/business, student activities and fundrais-

"Although it is school-oriented, Together We Can meshes municipal leaders, business leaders, clergy and parents to promote healthy lifestyles," Stolman said. In other words, awareness does not halt at the ring of a school bell.

Kurtzman reminds people that Together We Can highlights the positive happenings in the community.

"While we still have certain risks, we like to validate that there are positives," she said.

DARE is only one piece of a comprehensive program. Together We Can make a difference, though.

Community partnerships assisting youth throughout county

Communities throughout Lake County have established community partnerships over the course of the last several years which are bring youth together with community leaders to find alternative activities and promote anti-gang and drug awareness programs.

Ela Community Partnership— The Ela Area Community Partnership was established in September of 1991 to cultivate a healthy environment for all individuals residing in the community.

It was formerly the Lake Zurich Area Community Assembly on the Prevention of Drug and Alcohol and other Drug Abuse.

The partnership holds bi-annual group meetings and is working on several projects with community organizations and school officials.

FACTS-Family has and Community Together Successfully, FACTS, was established in January 1992 and serves the Wauconda area community. Its goal is to prepare youth for the future by building strong, healthy bonds between family and community members.

Some activities include a business-student exchange program that pairs sixth, seventh and eighth grade students with local businesses in a mentorship program and Mademoiselles, a self-esteem program for middle school girls.

FOX Club—Centering on new projects, is what the kids in Fox Lake are doing now.

Through a state grant, and the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service, the village was able to start one of the first youth programs ever-the FOX Club. FOX stands for Focusing Our experiences.

Sixth and seventh graders at Stanton School participate in various 4-H projects offered by FOX Club, including small animals, plaster crafts, cooking, horseless horse, news writing and arts and crafts.

Parents and other community members volunteer to teach these projects, and anyone with an interest is encouraged to volunteer.

Children's concert in Libertyville

The Family Circle of Youth and Family Counseling presents their third annual Jim Gill Show, "A Concert of Music and Drama Play for Children and Families," at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 28 at the First Presbyterian Church, 219 W. Maple St., Libertyville. Cost is $5 per family.

Gill's energetic one-man show is filled with imaginative stories, songs and silly things that encourage children to play along and share in the applause.

Immediately proceeding the concert at 9:30 a.m. is a special free drop-in (play time) group at the church for families, sponsored by the Family Circle. The Family Circle offers drop-in mornings twice weekly for parents and their children newborn to age four, discussion groups and speaker programs on a range of topics dealing with early childhood and parenting issues.

'A Thousand Cranes'

CLC Presents "A Thousand Cranes," a children's theatre production by ArtReach Touring Theatre (Cincinnati, Ohio), will be performed at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8 at the College of Lake County auditorium, 19351 Washington St., Grayslake.

The play tells the touching true story of a little girl who inspired millions of people with a simple message— "Peace in the World." Twelve years after the bombing of her home in Hiroshima, Sadako bravely struggles for long life by keeping the Japanese tradition of one thousand paper cranes as a symbol of hope. Although she does not survive, her spirit lives on in the hearts of today's children.

Tickets are $3. Advance ticket purchase is recommend. Call 223-6601, ext. 2300 for tickets.

Fables and Frogs

The Northbrook Theatre continues its fantastic "Kids Need Culture, too," series on Feb. 18 at 2 p.m. with a visit from the popular Kidworks Touring Theatre Company.

This professional touring theatre presents "Fishermen, Fables and Frogs," featuring the best of Aesop, Andersen and the brothers Grimm. In the production, Phyllis hates to read until, quite by accident, she opens a book and a character tumbles out and shows Phyllis what a little imagination can do to bring a story to life.

All seats priced at only $5 with discounts available for groups taking advantage of our Birthday Party Package. Call 291-2367 for tickets or information.

Writing workshop

A writing workshop for children in grades 3 -5, "The Great Silver Pen," will be held at Gorton Community Center, 400 W. Illinois Road, Lake Forest Feb. 4 from 9:30 a.m. - noon. The fee is

The half-day session will be led by author/publisher James H. Lehman. The program teaches children to write stories using their imaginations. Lehman's workshop is highly interactive as he teaches by eliciting the thoughts and ideas of the children. He teaches children how to make their characters come alive, create vivid descriptions, brainstorm plot ideas, create and use plot devices, and get unstuck when ideas won't come.

Lehman created Brotherstone Publishers to produce engaging and thought-provoking children's picture books, His first project, "The Saga- of Shakespeare Pintlewood and the Great Silver Fountain Pen," become a favorite with elementary school teachers, who use it as a tool in their writing units. Soon after the book was published, Lehmann began to visit classrooms to talk about writing. In the past three years, he has visited 90 schools in eight states.

Students should register by Tuesday, Jan. 31.

For further information, call 234-6060 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays. All students must be pre-paid and should bring a pencil or pen. Writing paper will be provided.-by RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Las Vegas At Sea

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

She's always dreamed of cruising the sunny Caribbean. He just can't wait to hit the tables in Vegas. (Or is it the other way around?) Neither of you can get away for more than 3 or 4 days, and the budget's a little tight this year, so it looks like a cheapy three day

Vegas package is the only choice.

Only a few years ago a three day cruise meant sailing on a small converted trans-atlantic passenger ship offering little more than a couple of slot machines and very amateurish shows.

Times have changed. Most of today's ships are as big as many of the largest resorts in Las Vegas and now offer full casinos.

For example, Carnival Cruise Lines ship, The Fantasy, which does three and four day sailings, has no less than 215 slots and 27 gaming tables including Blackjack, Craps, Red Dog, Roulette and Stud Poker. Lotteries, Bingo and many other games of chance are offered during the cruise.

Two professional full production Las Vegas Style Shows are offered nightly. Unlike Las Vegas, though, these shows are free.

The food may be cheap in Vegas, but on a cruise ship you can have eight meals a day, a midnight buffet and 24 hour room service, including breakfast in bed-all for free.

Casino hopping your thing? No problem since most 3 day cruises dock at Nassau, the home of the two largest casinos in the Caribbean. You can get to either by cab, but for some fun ask your travel agent how to get to the Crystal Palace on the Green Bus for a $1 or Paradise Island Casino via "Bum Boat" again for a buck.

So, how do we stay within a Vegas budget and still take a cruise? Actually, a three day cruise costs only about $30 a day more than the average three day Las Vegas package and your meals, entertainment and lots more are included free.

LIFE'S A BEAR-

DONNA ABEAR

Those feet were made for walking

It had to happen eventually. My 14 month-old daughter is walking.

You might assume that with four children this would not be such a big thrill (at least not big enough to print here in the paper, where several readers are now muttering to themselves, "Big deal! My kid walked at birth!"). Still, as I watch her take mincing steps across the floor, wobbling from side to side (if she were driving, the police would definitely have pulled her over for a breathalyzer test), I can't help smiling. Neither can she, actually-with every step, she wears a grin as big as the Cheshire Cat, especially when you reach out your arms and she somehow manages to sidestep you to prove that you cannot keep her from her chosen destination—the kitty litter box. As far as she's concerned, she's just grown wings.

However, with these wings comes more responsibility—for me, not her. Her ability to walk upright brings with it a whole new set of dangers (see page 242, section II.A. of Dr. Spock's Guide to Walking Children for detailed information). She is now able to inflict injury on herself in many new ways-where previously she could only fall from a standing position to the floor, she can now trip and fall while in motion, greatly increasing the possibility of a doctor visit. Not only do you want to prevent injury to your child—you also want to prevent explaining to the doctor that your child just "fell down." After which the doctor will look at you as though you were Jeffrey

Lakeland Newspapers SUBSCRIBE TODAY!

Dahmer's cousin, and write something illegible in the child's file, and then say he has to make a phone call (as you sit there mumbling to yourself, "She fell down. That's all. At least I think so.)

Don't get me wrong—I think it's wonderful that doctors are so careful now to investigate childhood injuries. Too often in the past, parents weren't questioned enough and many children in danger were left unaided. And though, for the most part, I've been lucky that mine have come through childhood mostly unscathed so far, my oldest son did manage to break a bone at the age of 5.

He was playing in the back yard, and suddenly his friend came running to the back door, screaming that Willy was hurt. We found our son laying in the grass and it was obvious, even with a winter coat on, that his arm was broken. We immediately rushed him to the hospital. When we arrived, the doctor asked him what had happened. My son mumbled, "I can't tell you!"

I assured Willy that he could tell the doctor, but he sat there glumly and refused to say anything. Next thing you know, we were asked to leave the room. My husband and I stood out in the hallway, sweating bullets and wondering why our son was refusing to tell, feeling like child abusers even though we knew that we weren't. Finally, after what seemed like nours, the doctor emerged. He informed us that Willy had finally admitted the truth-he didn't want us to know that he'd broken his arm because he was doing something he shouldn't have been-namely, climbing the fence.

At that point we considered telling the doctor to set our son's arm without pain killers, but then we felt guilty and said, "OK-just use the big needle."

So, as you can see, this milestone in my daughter's life has its good points and it's bad points. Actually, it's our cat that should really be worried. Before, the baby used to crawl after the cat and then sort of fall on him when she got there (her version of a hug). Now, she wobbles after him and when she gets there, she still falls on him, though from a much greater height. From his point of view, it's something like having Refrigerator Perry land on you during a football game on artificial turf.

Great-next we're going to have to explain to the vet why the cat is flat.

Good Food—— Celebrate Chinese New Year

January 31 marks the beginning of the Chinese year 4,693, an event that calls to mind the many delightfully delicious and healthful aspects of Asian cooking. Despite the recent/proar about the fat content of certain Chinese dishes, Asian cooking can be quite good for you. Balance and variety are the hallmark of Asian cuisine and it is just this harmonic approach that makes it so appealing from a health standpoint.

Celebrate the Year of the Pig with one of the best-known Asian dishes — the eggroll. Lo-An eggrolls are restaurant quality eggrolls available at the grocery store. Unlike many restaurant eggrolls, Lo-Ann eggrolls are without the added MSG and preservatives and contain no more than 30 percent calories from fat.

To accompany eggrolls for your Chinese New Years Feast, try the following recipe.

Cashew Vegetable Stir Fry

1/2 cup chicken broth

1 tablespoon soy sauce

2 teaspoons cornstarch 2 tablespoons oil

1/2 cup thinly sliced green onion

6 cups thinly sliced fresh vegetables (red bell pepper, mushrooms, water chestnuts, bok choy, broccoll fowerets, cabbage, carrots, peapods)

1 tablespoon sesame seeds, toasted

3/4 cup cashew halves

4 to 6 cups cooked rice

Combine chicken broth, soy sauce and cornstarch; mix well and set aside. Heat wok or large skillet over medium-high heat; add 1 tablespoon oil. Stir-fry green onion, garlic and ginger root for 30 seconds. Add remaining oil. Add vegetables; stir fry 4 to 5 minutes or until crisp tender. Pour soy sauce mixture over vegetables and cook 1 to 2 minutes or until thickened. Add sesame seeds, mixing lightly. Serve over 1 cup hot cooked rice per serving. Garnish with cashews. Serves 4 to 6.

Newman earns an Oscar in 'Fool'

Can a man, who, in real life, has emerged a winner in almost every endeavor he has undertaken, play a loser convincingly? Paul Newman's winning ways on the stage, on TV, on the big screen, in the director's chair, on the race track, or behind a businessman's desk, are well documented.

Newman's performance in "Nobody's Fool," either proves that he can, or else it tells the tale of a winner who is capable of a contagion that shows the winning side of a heretofore "no account" construction worker named Sully.

Sully resides in a small town, leads a life filled with more losses than wins, but still attacks each day with an affable wit and; despite his 60 years, makes a try at righting any wrongs he may have inflicted.

Newman's excellence in this part (besides the fact that he has to be the most attractive 70-yearold in existence) is joined by the great performance of Jessica Tandy, in her last movie role, that of Newman's landlady.

His flawless characterization of "Sully" carries through to Bruce Willis, who, though he plays a thoroughly dislikable boss-man, does it well, without his usual arrogant swagger.

Additional kudos go to Dylan Walsh, who plays Newman's estranged son.

When Sully makes use of his ability to influence those around him, besides falling a little in love with each other, he gives Griffith (Willis), tightens his relationship with his son, and grandchildren, and takes charge of his own life at last.

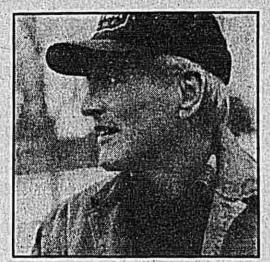

Because of the skillful direction of Robert Benton, the audience can't help but care about all the people in Sully's life.

Will Griffith come to terms with her louse of a husband? Will Sully and she get together? Will Sully find himself? See one of the year's best films and find out this important answer to the problems of seemingly unimportant people.

Lets hope that the Academy members recognize Newman's performance in what must be almost 10 nominations and one win. His biggest competitor bodes to be last year's winner, Tom Hanks, for the year's most popular film "Forrest Gump."

Not to denigrate Hankswho is undeniably capable of an award winning performance (as per "Big")—we think his really big one is still out there. Denzel Washington should have walked away with last year's Oscar for "Philadelphia," and this year's really belongs to the man with the gorgeous blue eyes.

Hanks was lucky enough to draw two plum roles that most of filmdom's top actors could have handled well.

Paul Newman

With Oscar night almost upon us, we are joining the masses and giving you our picks for the best of 1994.

Our list of the 10-best pictures is headed by "Speed" because it thrilled us; "Pulp Fiction," because it hypnotized and incensed us; "Maverick," because it made us laugh; and "Gump" because is made us feel patriotic and nostalgic. Then the fun of "Four Weddings and a Funeral," captured us, as did the shenanigans of "The Paper," and its most talented cast. "Bullets Over Broadway," was the cleverest of all, and "Quiz Show" one of the most meaningful. "Little Women," made us warm all over, and the "Lion King" taught us the meaning of love.-by GLORIA DAVIS pool their resources to stem the increasing flow of gang activity.

COURAGE meets the 4th Thursday of every month at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. The hall is located on Sand Lake Road in Lindenhurst.

WAY— In Warren Township, Warren Township Assisting Youth was formed in 1993.

WAY has hosted the Lake Forest Symphony benefit concert, a gang awareness panel discussion and logo contest. Upcoming activities include a brochure, a sticker and a Feb. 1 anti-gang panel discussion at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The mission of WAY is "developing a community rich in protective factors against violence by assisting youth in helping themselves become healthy, positive citizens through total community involvement."

Warren Township mayors comprise an executive board. More than 150 people participate in various committees.

C.A.P.E.— Project C.A.P.E. (Creating a Positive Environment) was officially kicked off during Red Ribbon Week in October 1993. The following January, more than 100 residents, business people and village officials met in an assembly to establish goals to make Mundelein a better place in which to live, work and play.

A number of committees were organized at that time and several have made significant strides in reaching their objectives for the year. The Multicultural Committee put together a resource booklet for Hispanic residents. The Image Development Committee organized a "Holiday House Walk" in December, which turned out to be a popular event and will most likely be repeated. Committees will meet again soon to evaluate their progress and set priorities for the coming year.

Horoscope

April 19) You'll intensify misgivings about a certain your efforts to get ahead in life this week. Strain could exist between a friend and a family member. However, don't put yourself in the position of having to choose between the two since this soon resolves itself.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A ticklish business situation requires your tact and diplomacy. You could sign a contract this week which leads to a lucrative venture for you. You'll be pleased with partnership developments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You're all business this week and you'll allow nothing to distract you from your goals. Hard work brings positive results, but you must be patient. New moneymaking opportunities arise.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Think twice before making a purchase as you could have regrets later, particularly if this is a bigticket item. Things go very much your way in general, but romance is highlighted.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're on top of things where job interests are con-ARIES (March 21 to cerned, but you may have relationship matter. Happy news comes from afar which will delight the entire family. A surprise visitor pops up this weekend.

> VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Though you probably shouldn't burn the candle at both ends, so to speak, social visits will prove very rewarding this week. You'll make important progress with intellectual and creative pursuits.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This week is likely to bring extra responsibilities in connection with child-rearing or a family matter. However, it will also bring important career developments. Financial prospects should improve.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You're very effective in presenting your ideas now. While an exciting travel opportunity awaits you, there are still some home duties to be attended to before packing your bags. A friend has good news.

SAGITTARIUS

will be easier than you had anticipated. Sometimes, you have a tendency to overly exaggerate such things in your mind, leading to procrastination. Much is accomplished

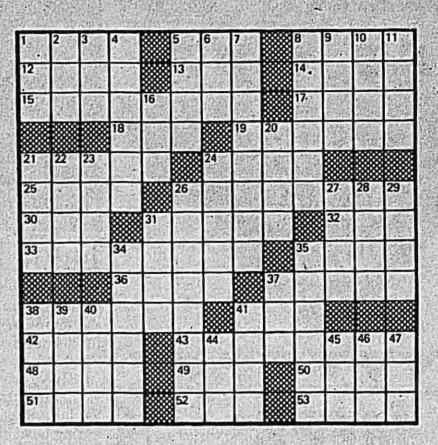

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You'll have extra determination and drive this week. As a result, you're asked to take a leadership role in connection with a group or club activity. Your ideas are good and if implemented, lead to success.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An immediate task may be troublesome, but your future prospects take a turn for the better, especially in business. Taking a break and clearing your mind will lead to new insights. Capitalize on new opportunities.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) One of your friendships will be strengthened this week. Though you may have mixed feelings about socializing now, indications are that you will have a good time and meet with influential people.

Enjoy Mexican feast at Mers

Mers Restaurant in Wauconda, a successful, familyowned restaurant carved out of an old stagecoach stop on the shores of Bangs Lake, is about to celebrate its 37th year in business. The restaurant is run by Rosemary Mers and Bob Mers, Jr. and wife, Cheri.

Those who frequent Mers know that throughout the year, the restaurant highlights food from different cultures. For instance, in October the restaurant serves German food during Octoberfest; in April there's Irish St. Patrick's Day specials; and coming up February 4 through 18, Mers turns the restaurant into a giant fiesta with its Mexican Buffet. Say "Olé" to homestyle recipes with zesty cheeses, spicy meats, and crisp tortilla shells. The buffet will feature tacos, burritos, tostadas, quesadillas, chimichangas, enchiladas, and Mexican beans, all for only $9.95 for adults, and $5.95 for kids 10 and under. To help get you in that Mexican mood, try a tasty Margarita for only $2.00.

Taking a siesta from Mexican food? Feast on New York Strip Steak served with Alaskan King Crab legs for just $21.95 any evening. Fresh seafood specialties will tempt the palate as well, and the all-you-can eat perch platter for $6.50 on Fridays is too good to miss.

For the chicken lovers, Mers presents a variety of chicken dishes, including Chicken Parmesan, topped with a delicious marinara sauce, parmesan and Mozzarella cheese, and served with pasta. This wonderful selection is only $10.95.

The Sunday Brunch at Mers is legendary. Choose from an inviting assortment of 10 hot breakfast selections or order custom made omelets. Served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., the brunch also features a salad bar and a tantalizing pastry table. All this for $8.95 for adults and $5.95 for children 10 and under.

According to an article in North Shore Magazine, Mers has the best ribs around. The restaurant is also noted for its prime rib of beef. The tempting daily and nightly specials are always popular, keeping diners coming back for more.

On Saturday evenings, stop by to enjoy Karaoke entertainment. The lounge is a great place to eat, drink, and visit. The appetizer menu offers a variety of taste-tempting treats. The restaurant is open every day except Tuesdays. Lunch hours during the week and Saturday are 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dinner is served from 4:30 to 10 p.m. The Sunday schedule is 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The restaurant also offers catering and banquet facilities.

Mers Restaurant is located at 313 E. Liberty in Wauconda. There are banquet facilities available as well as catering services. For more information call 526-6905.

Jerry's Supper Club boasts warm, welcoming atmosphere & good food

Jerry's Supper Club, located in the heart of downtown Prairie View, has been in operation since 1972, pleasing diners in the surrounding area with their delicious fare that always keeps customers coming back.

Owned and operated by Jerry Hauer with help from his children Marla, Julie, and Steve, the restaurant prides itself on its savory food and drink at moderate prices. Their motto has always been simply, "Good food, good drink, good prices."

Jerry's has the feel of an old-time supper club, with regular customers often becoming like family, and has a casual, relaxing atmosphere with old-time pictures of Prairie View and the surrounding area throughout the restaurant.

Jerry's is open for dinner from 5 to 10 p.m. on -Wednesday and Saturday, when you can find tasty specials for $12 and under, like prime rib, barbecued ribs, and baked chicken breast. Friday is fish night, also from 5 to 10 p.m., when you can choose from a delicious ! selection and healthy portions of shrimp, lake perch, scallops, catfish, walleye pike, and haddock. There's also rib eye, New York strip, and t-bone steaks, along with fried chicken, and a variety of sandwiches and appetizers, all reasonably priced. Although Friday is reserved for fish night, you can order Jerry's delicious fish any night! All dinners include soup, salad, hot bread, and your choice of potato. Although dinner is served only Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday evenings, Jerry's welcomes you to enjoy yourself in their lounge on alternate nights.

Lunch is served Monday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Specials are offered each day, and include baked chicken breast, roast beef, short ribs, hot beef sandwich, and a variety of fish dishes, in addition to a wide range of sandwiches and side orders.

Experience the friendly ambiance of Jerry's Supper by calling 913-1908 or 634-9608.

Good Shepherd offers CPR training

A cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be held from 6 to 10 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 9, and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 28, in the Lakeview Room at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington.

The four-hour course, taught by certified instructors, includes a lecture, film and hands-on experience in administering artificial breathing and blood circulation. There is a $25 fee.

The CPR class also can be offered as an onsite employee education program at area businesses and industries.

Good Shepherd Hospital is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59. For more information or to register, call HealthAdvisor at 1-800-474-3278.

Divorce program

On Tuesday, Feb. 7, Forest Health Systems will sponsor a free community education program that explores how a person going through divorce can become happier, healthier and stronger. "The Empowered Survivor. Recovering from the Divorce Process," will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Novick Auditorium at Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Ln., Des Plaines.

The program will be presented by Rick Tivers, LCSW, ACSW, co-director of The Center for Divorce Recovery for Forest Health Systems. Because of limited seating for this program, registration is requested. To register, or for further information, call 635-4100, ext. 224 or 225.

Ex-smokers support group to meet

A free ex-smokers support group, offered by Good Shepherd Hospital, will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Feb. 16. The meetings, which are held the third Thursday of each month, offer participants a chance to share experiences and offer support to each other as they continue to lead smoke-free lives.

For more information or to register, call Health-Advisor at 1-800-474-3278. Good Shepherd Hospital is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59.

Victory Lakes diabetes programs scheduled

Accu-Check blood sugar (diabetes screening) is being offered from 8 to 10 a.m. in the chapel at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst. Fasting is required and there is a nominal fee of $2. Call 356-5900 for more information and to register.

And, at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 18, a sibling class will be held at Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan. Children will learn how special it is to become an older brother or sister. To register for this free class, call 360-4121.

Midwestern Medical Center slates health screenings

A vision screening to detect visual acuity and eye pressure will be offered free on Wednesday, Feb. 22, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the office of Dr. Glynis Vashi, 401 S. Greenleaf in Park City. Dr. Vashi is a member of the medical staff at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion.

A four-hour cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered by a certified instructor at the offices of three physicians affiliated with the center. Thursday, Feb. 9, 6 to 10 p.m., Dr. Pedro Palu-ay, the Doctors Office of Zion, 1911 27th St., Zion; Thursday, Feb. 16, 6 to 10 p.m., Dr. Semyon Maslovsky, 2045 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst; and on Monday, Feb. 20, 6 to 10 p.m., Dr. Glynis Vashi, 401 S. Greenleaf, Park City. Class fees are $25.

Free blood pressure screenings are available by appointment at the offices of Dr. Pedro Palu-ay (872-1615); Dr. Semyon Maslovsky (356-6131; and Dr. Glynis Vashi, 362-9900. During the month of February, these physicians are also offering two heart disease risk screenings. There will be a $35 charge for a cardiac risk profile that includes a physical examination by a physician; $55 for a heart disease risk consultation (includes EKG and consultation with a physician).

Also during the month of February, a blood test to detect LDL, HDL, total blood cholesterol, triglycerides and glucose is available for $15 at the Midwestern Regional Medical Center affiliated physicians' offices. For more information, or to make an appointment, call the physician nearest to you.

General childbirthing class announced

The New Family Center at Victory Memorial Hospital is now taking registration for its 5-session "Prepared Childbirth/ Cesarean Section" class. The class will meet at 7 p.m. on five consecutive Tuesday nights beginning Feb. 7 at the hospital, 1324 North Sheridan Road, Waukegan. The cost of the class is $30.

In the class, expectant parents will learn what happens during the labor and delivery experience. Parents who anticipate delivery of their baby by Cesarean section will learn about that procedure also. Upon completion of the class, a certificate will be awarded which allows the support person to be present during the baby's birth with approval of the attending doctor.

"Prepared Childbirth/ Cesarean Section" is taught by a registered nurse. Class size is limited so it is important to register early. Call the New Family Center at 360-4121 to register for this and other childbirth preparation classes.

Why it's important to seek Alzheimer's disease assessment

Having trouble remembering where the car keys are, losing direction in an overcrowded shopping mall, or not recognizing a neighbor you hardly ever see are not necessarily causes for concern. These problems don't automatically signal the onset of Alzheimer's disease. While memory loss is one of the early symptoms of the disease, it is not the only determining factor.

The experienced staff of the "Sunshine Wing" at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, 1055 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, provide assessment, treatment and support programs for Alzheimer's disease patients and their families as a primary Alzheimer's provider in conjunction with the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center, Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, Chicago.

"We encourage people to undergo assessment Alzheimer's Disease so they no longer have to worry about whether they have the disease. Not everyone examined for the disease has it. There are many causes for some of the symptoms. Once the assessment is complete, appropriate treatment can begin whatever the findings are," said

FDA recommends approval of anesthesia

An advisory panel to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has recommended approval of sevoflurane, a new inhalation anesthetic manufactured by Abbott Laboratories. Abbott submitted a New Drug Application (NDA) for sevoflurane to the FDA last July.

The role of the advisory panel is to review matters before the FDA and make recommendations based on their independent perspectives.

Abbott's NDA requests an indication for induction and maintenance of general anesthesia in adult and pediatric patients for both inpatient and outpatient surgery. Research conducted with more than 6,000 patients worldwide suggests that sevoflurane provides smooth and rapid induction of anesthesia and quick emergence and recovery from the drug's effects.

Lisa Golladay, Alzheimer's coordinator at Victory Lakes.

Many medical problems result in Alzheimer's-like symptoms such as memory loss, disorientaand forgetfulness. Medications, like those used to treat high blood pressure for example, can sometimes result in such symptoms, So can depression or stress. For instance, the loss of a spouse or other close loved one may result in a depression with behaviors that look like Alzheimer's disease. Similar symptoms can also be caused by the stress of selling a lifelong home and moving to an apartment or senior community.

Information on the Alzheimer's disease assessment program through Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center is available by calling 356-5900.

Breast cancer detection project announced by Waukegan hospitals

St. Therese Medical Center and Victory Memorial Hospital has announced they are working together to improve early breast cancer detection services for minority women in northern Lake

The hospitals conducted a comprehensive study of community health needs and found that breast cancer is detected at a late stage of the disease at significantly higher rates among African-American, Asian and Hispanic women than in other populations. Breast cancer treatment is often more successful when it is detected and treatment is begun at an early stage. The hospitals hope that more lives can be saved if more women perform breast self-examination and undergo routine mammograms.

In a joint press release from both hospitals, Timothy Seiz, president of St. Therese Medical Center, said, "We are now preparing a plan to implement a community-wide drive to reach over 12,000 minority women aged 35 years and over. We hope to find ways of providing mammograms to women who otherwise may not be able to afford them."

Limothy J. Harrington, president of Victory Memorial Hospital, continued, "Our hospitals are uniquely equipped to address this community health issue. In addition, we plan to identify other community health organizations that can contribute their services and launch the program in the spring of 1995."

EHS Good Shepherd first in area to install a state-of-the-art surgical instrument sterilizer

EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, Barrington, is the first hospital in northwest Illinois to install a state-of-the-art sterilizer for surgical instruments.

The new hydrogen peroxide plasma system employs a patented low-temperature gas plasma technology that is environmentally safe, less expensive to operate and faster than the ethylene oxide method of instrument sterilization currently used by hospitals for heat and moisture sensitive items.

"Although steam sterilization is widely used for many items, it is necessary to use other technology for heat and moisture sensitive items," said Sally Beane, R.N., B.S., sterile processing supervisor at EHS Good-Shepherd. "Most hospitals use ethylene oxide for gas sterilization which emits substances that can be harmful to individuals and the atmosphere if there isn't proper ventilation and constant monitoring.

"The new technology is the first sterilization breakthrough in 40 years. The hydrogen peroxide plasma converts to vaporized water and oxygen so it is environmentally and ecologically safe."

In addition, Beane said there is a significant cost reduction because the new process is less expensive to operate and requires less instrumentation.

Agape acquires carpal treatment device

Agape Chiropractic Center announces the arrival of the CTD-Mark 1 Pneumatic Arm Traction Device. The CTD-Mark 1 is a gentle, therapeutic, pneumatic controlled unit designed to help reduce acute pain and disability associated with acute or chronic Carpal Tunnel Syndrome.

The CTD-Mark 1 was designed to help combat the rising costs of traditional surgical treatment and rehabilitation. The CTD-Mark 1 provides the physician with an "affordable" treatment option, which often helps produce immediate relief.

This machine has been in use for over a year in more than 100 doctor's offices throughout the country. These doctors are reporting positive results. Wider distribution plans are being implemented.

Agape Chiropractic Center recognizes that Carpal Tunnel Syndrome is reaching epidemic proportions. It is a burden for not only business and industry, but even more so for those who live with the pain and disability it causes. The CTD-Mark 1 provides a new, non-surgical methodology of treatment and provides physicians with another alternative for many of the patients who wish to find relief without resorting to surgery, which is expensive and unfortunately causes permanent disability in significant numbers.

Persons who would like to be evaluated for Carpal Tunnel Syndrome may contact Dr. Kathleen Hufnagle at 356-9696.

Hospital sponsors deficit disorder, anxiety seminar

The Institute for Attention Deficit Disorders and medical professionals on staff at Highland Park Hospital will host a special seminar on Attention Deficit Disorders (ADD) and Anxiety at the Hyatt Deerfield, 1750 Lake Cook Rd. in Deerfield on Wednesday, Feb. 8, beginning at 7 p.m.

ADD and anxiety disorders are frequently confused or frequently co-exist. It has been estimated that 79 percent of adults with ADD experience anxiety. Likewise, many anxiety sufferers may wonder if they could have an undiagnosed attention deficit disorder. The program will include a presentation on

EHS, Lutheran General merger complete

The parent corporation of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington and Lutheran General Health Systems in Park Ridge announced Tuesday their merger is complete. The name of the new health care organization is Advocate Health Care.

The new organization is one of the largest health care providers in metropolitan Chicago, with 20,400 employees and more than 4,000 physicians providing care at 180 sites throughout the area. In addition, Advocate owns HEALTH DIRECT, Inc., a large managed care company offering an HMO and PPO covering health care needs of more than 336,000 people.

See this week's business section for expanded news on the merger.

the latest developments in the diagnosis and treatment of attention deficit disorders in adults as well as a discussion on the identification of anxiety disorders.

Attendees will have an opportunity to participate in a discussion about similarities and difference in these disorders and pose questions to a panel of experts, including Leonard Carr, M.D., child and adult psychiatrist and director of Adolescent Services at Highland Park Hospital; Sandra Scheinbaum, Ph.D., licensed clinical psychologist and director of the Institute for ADD; and Sherry Byer, Ph.D., licensed clinical psychologist and director of the Panic/Anxiety/Recovery Center.

Steele family celebrates 40 years of caring

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Serving the needs of patients 24-hours a day is not just a promise from Steele Surgical Supply Co. and Steele Home Health Care Center, its a business philosophy.

The business was founded in 1955 by Ernie Steele, a father of 11, who needed a steady income and couldn't manage the traveling required by the sales position he held with a Chicago medical supply house.

Steele and his wife, Rita, began serving clients from the front porch of their Waukegan home. Today, the family is celebrating 40 years in business and boasts a multi-million dollar company which remains privately held. The company serves physicians in Lake and Cook counties as well as Kenosha and Racine counties in Wisconsin. -The home health care division serves primarily Lake County residents often through physician referral.

"My dad was a Hospital Corpsman (medic) in the Navy during World War II," said Jim Steele, who leads the home health care division. "He met my mother while stationed at Great Lakes." Following their marriage, Steele began working as a medical supply salesman and then founded the company as a physician supply facility. Over the years as the need for home health care increased, Steele began offering consumers a place to obtain items required of patients in the home such as hospital. beds, walkers, reachers and clothing articles.

Steele has grown considerably since the days on the front porch. Today, there are three divisions of the company including two home health care centers, one in Waukegan and a branch facility in Lake Villa. The surgical supply company is also located in Waukegan. Additionally, Tom Steele, has founded a branch of the company is St. Joseph, Mich. which provides both physician's supply and home health care items.

"It's a rewarding business," said Steele. "We take care of customer's needs first. That is the heart and soul of our business."

Steele and his family members believe the business is so successful because they do put the customer first.

"That is the way we were raised and the principles upon which my parents founded the business," said Steele. "It may See STEELE page C2

Maid service gives back time to working families

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

With the advent of the twoincome family into mainstream America, traditional lifestyles are continually being rethought. Time at home has become a more precious commodity for couples especially if they are parents.

With this in mind, new businesses have formed to fill the void left at home. One such business is Lake Bluff-based Molly Maid, an in-home cleaning service serving people from Gurnee to Vernon Hills. Since hiring residential cleaning is becoming less of a luxury and more of a necessity, the parent company of Molly Maid is one of the fastest growing residential cleaning services in the country.

"Both my husband, Win and I work, so we know the challenges working families face in the area," said Marilyn Gould, who along with her husband owns and operates the franchise.

Marilyn has been a private duty nurse for the last 10 years. Win works as a consultant for an outplacement firm in Deerfield. With the high rent district all of Lake County is evolving toward, one stay-at-home parent is becoming more of the exception than the norm. The Goulds identified the trend and the needs that come from it.

"With the changes occurring in health care, I wanted to get involved in something else. I was looking for a new challenge. We did some research and learned that home cleaning services is the fastest growing small business in America," said Marilyn.

The Goulds were impressed with Molly Maid's standards and reputation for quality. When people are not home, the house simply doesn't get cleaned as it should. Often times, when people do get a moment to spare at home, their energy level is generally more suited for relaxation, but they still must do other

This is particularly true among women. Women were and still are the traditional stayat-home parent and today find themselves juggling child care and house chore duties along with running life at the office. The results of a poll taken by the U.S. Department of Labor of more than 250,000 working women could be encapsulated by a Cleveland respondent's words, "I'm tired."

Over the past decade, women have been entering the workplace at the rate of 1.1 million per year. What Molly Maid and other enterprising business ventures have done is take advantage of the new needs arising out of women in the workplace. Across the country, Molly Maid's business grew 30 percent last year alone. Other business, such as dry cleaners who pick up and deliver and third party restaurant delivery services, have come to aid workers too tired to leave the

This new business growth also offers another important service. Beyond giving peace of mind the housework is done, Molly Maid is just one of the growing businesses offering working parents an even greater treasure-an opportunity for more time with the family.

The parent corporation of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington and Lutheran General Health Systems in Park Ridge announced Tuesday their merger is complete. The name of the new health care organization is Advocate Health Care.

"The new name was chosen to accessibility, communicate responsiveness, caring, and sen-'sitivity," said Richard R. Risk and Stephen L. Ummel, co-chief officers of Advocate Health Care. Risk was formerly president and -chief executive officer of EHS of Oak Brook, while Ummel held ... the same positions at LGHS.

The new organization is one of the largest health care providers in metropolitan Chicago, with 20,400 employees and more than 4,000 physicians providing care at 180 sites throughout the area. In addition, ... Advocate owns HEALTH DIRECT, Inc., a large managed care company offering an HMO and PPO covering health care needs of more than 336,000 peo-

"We are building on strong, well-established track records of running successful health care organizations," said Risk and Ummel. "Together, as Advocate Health Care, we have an even greater opportunity to provide accessible, low cost health care in the communities where people live and work. Also, by coming together, we increase the opportunity for cost savings, improved efficiency and productivity. Both organizations have demonstrated a firm commitment to Continuous Quality Improvement and we will continue to stress that philosophy in the future."

One of the largest religiously sponsored health care organizations in the nation, Advocate Health Care is related to both the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, which founded LGHS, and the United Church of Christ, which began EHS.

Bit 7 and Circuit Works Corp. Mundelein, have hired Sagendorph as their sales manager. Seven of the Steele's 11 children remain active in the business serving in a variety of capacities. John, heads the physicians supply company; Tom, operates the branch in Michigan; Lon, heads up the company's Disabilities American with Branch along with Bill Messier; David and sisters Sue Steele Bersie and Mary Steele Bornhoff work in corporate accounting.

The third generation of the Steele family is beginning to make its mark on the business as well. Lon's daughter, Lisa Steele, 22, is a member of the accounting department.

The home health care division has experienced tremendous growth over the past several years as changes have occurred in the medical field.

"Today, many patients go home sooner than ever before following hospitalization and often need products and equipment for their recovery process at home," said Steele.

"People are more receptive today to using such products because they provide an opportunity to improve their quality of life and help them maintain active lifestyles."

Steele offers 24-hour service, seven days per week and same day delivery in most cases.

To move or to expand?

The "baby boomers" face another challenge along with parenting later in life. It deals with parenting all right—their parents. As the senior age expands into the '70s, more and more in-laws and parents are selling their homes and moving in with the kids. It makes sense in a lot of ways. There is no need to maintain two households, and very often the grandparent can be a great asset for sharing babysitting and household chores. The problem, of course, is whether the present home can accommodate another person and afford the privacy that will be necessary for both parties if this scenario becomes a reality.

As a real estate counselor, we often discuss this matter with couples trying to decide which is the better move, expand their present home or look for another. one more accommodating. The answer varies with the needs and specifics for the individual family. There are some guidelines to consider when balancing the pros and cons of increasing your present home or trading up for another.

The first question I usually ask is, "How much equity do you now have in your present home?" Depending on the equity, from a tax standpoint it is always good to know how much "dead" equity the home now holds. If the property has peaked or slowed in appreciation, looking at the tax consequences for little or no mortgage write-off is a consideration.

The second point to address is how much of an addition will be needed, and will that cause the home to be too specialized for the area. If the majority of homes in the immediate area will be considerably smaller, then adding an additional 700-1,000 square feet may make it difficult to extract the value in the near future. The appeal for a generous percentage of the buying market may also diminish, as not everyone wants to own the biggest, most expensive home in the neighborhood.

Many times, from a pure economic standpoint the wisest decision is to keep your present home and have a plan drawn to study an addition. With the prices of homes escalating, many times it would provide a hardship on the younger family to endure a higher mortgage, and higher real estate taxes just to provide more square footage. If the home is relatively newer, and an addition can enhance the flow, living space and curb appeal, the decision should be to stay. Investigate several contractors and plans before going ahead.

Consideration has to be given to the comfort of the present family. Moving the kids to a different school district, and the other stresses of moving can be circumvented by studying all the housing options before making a decision. Consult a real estate agent to get an idea of present market value and proposed value after the addition has been added. Get written bids from your contractor on the total costs of an addition, complete with details on what will be included and the time frame in which the addition will be completed.

_Murphy on Real Estate ____ New aid for low income home buyers

Financial assistance will soon be available to qualified low and very low income households in Illinois that need help in meeting the down payment requirements and closing costs associated with financing home purchases, the Illinois League of Financial Institutions has announced.

According to Ill. League president J. Dennis Montgomery, effective Feb. 1 income-qualified Illinois households needing down payment and closing cost assistance may be able to secure help in the form of grants from financial institutions throughout the state that are participating in the League's Affordable Housing Program.

Montgomery said in October 1994 the lead lender for the grant program, Hinsdale Federal Bank for Savings, applied to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago's Affordable Housing Program for a grant on behalf of all Illinois League and FHLB of Chicago member financial institutions. In December, a $500,000 grant was approved. The funds will be made available for use by FHLB of Chicago member financial institutions in helping low and very low income families become homeowners.

Qualified households within Illinois will be eligible to receive up to $2,900 in grant assistance for the acquisition and rehabilitation of a owner-occupied one or two family dwelling.

To qualify for a grant, the applicant must have an aggregate annual household income that is 60 percent of less than the median household income of the area where the property to be purchased is located, adjusted for family size.

The League's 1995 Affordable Housing Program is a continuation of a highly successful program sponsored by the League in 1994. The 1994 program provided assistance to 150 Illinois families.

State mortgage program fights high interest

To combat rising interest rates, home buyers can take advantage of a state-operated mortgage program that offers below-market rates to first-time home buyers, says State Sen. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake).

Illinois First-Time Homebuyer Program, administered by the Illinois Housing Development Authority, now has a continuous stream of funding.

"The First-Time Homebuyer Program makes owning a home a reality for many people who had previously only dreamed of it," Klemm said. "Steady funding for the program takes the worry out of the mortgage process."

Four different rate options are available for a 30-year fixed loan through this program: three points and 7.69 percent; two points and 7.85 percent; one point and 8.01 percent; and zero points and 8.16 percent.

Under the program, a firsttime homebuyer is defined as a person who has not owned a home as a primary residence for the last three years. Federal income limits must also be met. Existing homes and structures of up to four units, new single-family homes and certain new twounit structures may qualify if they meet purchase price limits.

Klemm encourages interested home buyers to ask a real estate , agent or lending bank if they are eligible for the program. A detailed brochure a available from the Illinois Housing Development Authority's HomeLine at (800)942-8439.

I REALLY WISH I KNEW WHY PEOPLE HAVE FUNERALS

Students of human behavior tell us that ceremonies for saying goodby have existed as long as man. Ceremonies mark events in the lives of people and communities. Weddings mark new families; baptisms and bar mitzvahs welcome children and adolescents into society. Death marks the end of life. The funeral acknowledges that a life has been lived. People express their feelings about life through ceremony. Funerals also provide a socially accepted way for people to come together to support the grieving family. If there were no funerals, how would you find a way to tell a family that you cared about their loss.

How To Survive The Job Search By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: After reading the help wanted ads in the paper, I applied for a position with a local company. The position was for an accounts payable person with a 2 year associates degree in accounting, a minimum of 1 year accounts payable experience, honest, responsible and able to work in a fast paced environment. The job was offered to me for which I accepted and I have been working with the company for the past six months. I enjoyed my job, the people and the challenge up until one week ago when my boss took me into her office and informed me that I was terminated. I was totally stunned and asked, why? She told me that it had been brought to her attention that the information on my application was not true and proceeded to tell me that she has found out that not only did I only have five months experience in accounts payable, but that I also never attended any college as was stated on my application. Now here I am unemployed and being denied unemployment benefits. What I don't understand is, If I was doing a good job, why would I be fired? K.W. -

A: Dear K.W. Honestly? Honesty! The possibility remains that perhaps you were not working up to par and therefore brought attention to yourself enough to make your boss question your credentials further. Or perhaps word somehow got back to her about your background. Too many people when filling out applications for jobs forget that when they sign the application that the fine print above your signature should be read. It usually contains information giving authorization for that company to investigate your background and to verify that the information you have given to them is to the best of your ability true and accurate. Inaccuracies as to minor dates of employment may in fact be overlooked; however, a person does not accidentally enter information stating that they have a college degree if they have never attended college. Imagine how your boss felt. To find out that she was deceived insulted her judgment. I would suggest getting back up on your feet and be honest on your next application.

Q: Dear...Search: I understand that you have been helping others in my situation. I am barely over 65 years, retired from my position of 25 years with the telephone company and bored! I have a great personality, a lot of spunk and a great phone voice. I know that I am limited to the amount of money I can earn while collecting Social Security, can you suggest something that will help me feel fulfilled besides the obvious volunteer work? J.F. - Lake Villa

A: Dear J.F. Call me! (244-0016) For your general information: The total limit that a S.S. recipient is allowed to earn for 1992 is $7440 for those under 65. If between the ages of 65-69, the limit is $10,200. There is no limit for persons 70 and over. So you see, even to do something part time, 20 hours per week at $6.50 per hour still puts you under the lower limit. Hope this helps!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., -Gurnee, IL 60031.

HERMES REALTY (708) 816-7896

The contemporary style Vay has 2001 square feet of living space arranged in an innovative floor plan that centers around family life. With the sleeping quarters on opposite sides of the home, and family gathering places located in the middle, privacy can be had by all while still maintaining an atmosphere of togetherness.

The recessed entry of the Vay takes you directly into the vaulted family room. Here friends can gather in the warmth of a huge fireplace and enjoy each other's company, or let the built-in entertainment center provide the fun.

Two identical vaulted rooms are on either side of the entry. One is a dining room with direct access to the kitchen. Here, on more formal occasions, dinner may be served. The other is a small living room, ideal for spending time with a good book. Both have large windows, with half rounds above, providing plenty of sunlight and an excellent view.

The right side of the floor plan has three bedrooms that share a long hallway. Two of them are separated from the third by a full bathroom. One of them could easily be converted for use as a home office or a sewing/music room. Extra storage space is available in the hallway.

An exceptionally large patio divides this three bedroom wing from the isolated master suite. This patio is big enough to invite the whole clan over for a barbecue. The roomy master suite is sure to please. The amenities here include a private bathroom, twin van-ities, walk-in closet and a sliding glass door to the patio. The location of the kitchen will be a delight for the cook in the household. Groceries can be brought in directly from the garage. No need to worry about the weather. Features include an eating bar, pantry, skylight, microwave oven and built-in desk. Informal meals can be served in the adjacent nook.

which has a built-in hutch. A small utility room adjoins the kitchen. For a study kit of the VAY (403-17), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Midwest Boat Show cruises into Rosemont Feb. 16

Just in time to help buoy up mid-winter spirits, the 26th annual Midwest Boat Show will drop anchor Feb. 16 to 19 at the Rosemont Convention Center.

Stocked with some 500 boats and 100 marine accessories/services exhibits, the show expects more than 35,000 nautical enthusiasts to attend this preview of the year's best in boating.

As well as catering to boaters of all ages and interest levels, the Midwest Boat Show will also feature family entertainment, including: Twiggy, the waterskiing squirrel; the original boat from the movie "The African Queen"; Sea Word of Florida's Wild Arctic Express exhibit; and a remote controlled boat pool.

"This is a great time of year to start planning for the summer boating season," said Norman Schultz, show manager. "You can virtually do all of your shopping or information gathering in one location, instead of traveling from dealer to dealer. Plus manufacturers' representatives are on site to answer questions."

The new power boats displayed will include all the top brands, ranging in size from 8foot inflatables to 31-foot cruis-pontoon boats plus the new deck boat models; sport and highperformance boats; and a large selection of personal watercraft including jet-powered boats.

The accessories/services exhibits will accommodate a broad range of boating needs and interests: Marine electronics; publications; clothing; canvas repairs; insurance; brokerage; charters; marinas and dockage; resorts; gifts; fishing equipment; boat financing; water skis; hardware; piers and boat lifts.

· Bass Tub of Oklahoma. A 5,000-gallon, 9-foot tall aquarium See BOAT page C20

Twiggy, the waterskling squirrel, will perform daily at the 1995 Midwest Boat Show, Feb. 16-19 at Rosemont Convention Center. For show information call (312) 751-5557.

Lancers struggle in defeats

A steady game from more than just one player is normally required to be in contention in women's junior college basketball.

College of Lake County's women learned a lesson in that as Waubonsee handed the Lancers a big 62-30 setback in Skyway Conference action.

Lisa Sinnokrak, a Warren Township High School grad, had 11 points, but was the only Lancer in double fig-

"She had a fairly strong game for the third or fourth game in a row," Coach Don Zeman said.

CLC (2-12, 0-2 Skyway) fell behind 19-1 at the outset. The home team managed just 11-of-71 field goal tries, 15 percent.

"We do not have anyone to give us confidence or spark. We hope to take it not only one game at a time, but one half at a time and see if we cannot get ourselves to have a chance at the end," Zeman said.

CLC's game with Morton was postponed until 1 p.m. Jan. 28 in Cicero. The game was snowed out Jan. 19. CLC traveled to McHenry to take on the nationally-ranked Scots Jan. 26. Elgin is the next home foe at 5:15 p.m. Feb. 2.

Kroakers aim to bring back exciting brand of baseball

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Ready to leapfrog into the hearts of Lake County baseball fans will be a young squad known as the Kenosha Kroakers.

The Kroakers will be in their second year of competition in the Northwoods League, a six-team Midwest based operation.

The Kroakers will be collegeage players who had just completed seasons for their schools. "A majority of those players will have been drafted by the pros," Todd Van Order, Kroakers general manager, said.

The Kroakers do not have a schedule set for home games at Simmons Field, but do have a coaching staff ready for 1995. Phillip Charles Shaw, former assistant coach at Wausau, Wis. will manage the Kroakers. Shaw is a 26-year-old native of Van Nuys, CA, who is the assistant coach at a junior college. He previously coached at Northridge College and was on the staff of an NCAA College World Series team. He is also a coach with the California Angels winter scout league team.

"We are very pleased and excited to have P.C. join our organization. He is a very talented coach and is a good recruiter in the college ranks. Having worked with P.C. in Wausau, I feel comfortable that he will bring some exciting young major league prospects to Kenosha," Van Order said. The Kroakers were 24-32 last year.

The concept of the Northwoods League is to provide the amateur athlete with a professional baseball experience. Teams use wood bats as opposed to aluminum bats the NCAA uses. The schedule resembles that of a minor league team and there are scouts in attendance.

Teams are from Dubuque to Rochester, MN. All have outdoors type names. There are the Dubuque Mud-Puppies, Kenosha Kroakers, Manitowoc, Wisc. Skunks and Rochester Honkers.

The Wausau team drew some 1,000 fans a game last year.

"Both the general manager and myself were active in the sales part in the first part of 1994. We went out and met a lot of people. We tried to tell them baseball is back in Wausau. Similar to Kenosha, they had a minor league situation and pulled out because of the same situation they could not combat with the weather. It was a love affair from the start. They loved the name the Woodchucks. We were able to get a mascot and get him out to the community before the season started and able to target the children," Van Order explained.

The Kenosha Twins used to call Simmons Field home for a decade but moved to Fort Wayne in 1992. The idea of the Kroakers team may have begun at one of those games, when now Kroakers president George McDonald Jr. , was chatting with former Class A See KROAKERS page C20

Kenosha Kroakers General Manager Todd Van Order displays the team's hat. The college-age players will compete in the Northwoods League and play at Kenosha's Simmons Field.

Williams' timing proves key as LFC nets big loop win

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Facing a team which averages 100 points a basketball game, Lake Forest College's squad knew it had to beat Grinnell at the visitors' own game Saturday.

The Foresters did just that with a 110-98 win.

Jermaine Williams of North Chicago picked just the right time to.hit two of his four three-pointers, both times coming as Grinnell cut the LFC lead to four points.

"We knew if we held them under 100, we would win," Ed Timm. Lake Forest College coach, said. "I was proud of the way we played, especially after losing to Coe last night. " confidence because we had not been playing well," Williams said.

The Foresters hit the road this weekend, at Knox College at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 27 and at Illinois College in Jacksonville at 3 p.m. Jan. 28. The next home game is Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m. against Carroll College.

"The bench also responded well," Timm said. Evan Leovaris led the way of the reserves with 4 points and 3 rebounds. Richmond-Burton grad Jeff Toler contributed as well.

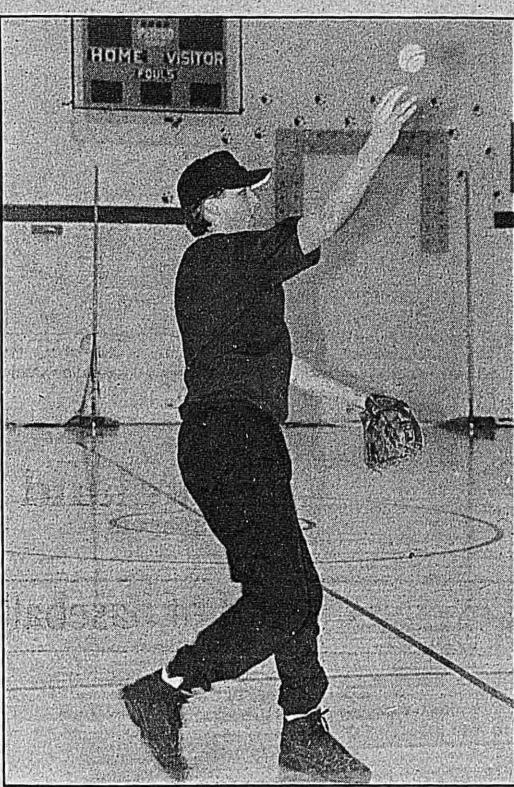

Grinnell's Steve Dickman ended with 33 points, as he put on a three-point shooting clinic early and finished 7-of-18.

Making progress is the theme of College of Lake County's wrestling team for the season's concluding weeks.

And the Lancers did just that in splitting two matches at Carroll College last week. The Lancers beat Milwaukee School of Engineering 27-18 but lost to Carroll College 31-19.

"We are wrestling well. Carroll College is an improved team from the past," Stan Pasiewicz, CLC Coach, said.

Mike Gonzalez won two matches at 142 pounds. "Mike is coming into his own," Pasiewicz said. "He is working hard in practices."

Ron Bogseth, a Grant High grad, is showing promise at 126 pounds. He earned a 12-5 win over MSOE. "Ron has a lot of talent," the coach said.

Mark Schweiss, another former Bulldog, is also wrestling well, the coach said.

Chris Haag, an Antioch High grad, is learning to wrestle heavyweight. "If he becomes consistent, he could be a dominant force," Pasiewcz said.

"We do not have the caliber of state champs over schools do. They were good high school wrestlers, but we have to take it up a few notches," Pasiewicz commented.

CLC was trounced in two matches at Harper Saturday. Harper won 39-3 and Lincoln prevailed 46-0. Steve Fuller, 150 pounds, won against Harper.

CLC faced Harper and Waubonsee at Sugar Grove Jan. 25. The Lancers are at Triton against Madison Tech and Lincoln Jan. 28.

'Winter Warm-Up' brings baseball back to Comiskey

As part of the Chicago White Sox "Winter Warm-Up," there will be an open house at Comiskey Park where fans can talk baseball and receive free autographs.

Expected to be on hand for the event include White Sox Manager Gene Lamont, former players Minnie Minoso, Bill Melton, Carlos May and Jerry Hairston as well as team broadcasters.

There also will be a tour of Comiskey Park and a garage sale of White Sox uniforms, equipment, promotional items, publications and other souvenirs.

Other scheduled activities include a kid's corner, a speed pitch machine and batting cage, and food and beverages in the Stadium

Tickets are $5 per day. The event will be held Feb. 11 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Feb. 12 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. To order tickets, call (312) 831-1SOX. All proceeds benefit Chicago White Sox charities.

A small but interested group of baseball and softball coaches attended the first Grant High baseball clinic Saturday.

The clinic, organized by new Grant Coach Lee Raaditz, featured former players and current coaches as well as umpires giving their knowledge of the key aspects of baseball.

Jim Sowa and John Christensen offered talks about umpiring. Reggie Hughes of Warren Township High discussed organization and Rick Mowen of Waukegan High discussed pitching and catching.

"Practicing hitting is invaluable," Joe May, former College of Lake County and South Alabama University standout, said.

"I stress the confidence aspect. Balance is the key, but each batter will develop his own style," May stated.

For example, would anyone teach Ricky Henderson, the best leadoff hitter in baseball's stance to a youngster?

White Sox slugger Frank Thomas is a picture in concentration while Ken Griffey Jr. is the most confident left-handed hitter, May stated.

"My flaw was I used to step too far and had no power from my knees to my shoulders," he said. "Tell the players to hit the middle of the ball and make solid contact. This reduces the margin of error. The rest will follow."

grad.

May learned the importance of concentration from baseball guru Ralph Bufano. A weighted bat can help as well as many swings.

"Ted Williams used to swing until his hands bled," May said.

Gene Hanson, College of Lake County coach, stressed the need to break all aspects of the game down. He told the coaches 10 do's and don'ts of being a youth league baseball coach and gave infield and outfield

"Don't stay in the same spot all the time. Keep the kids moving," he stated:

Short practices with many drills is the Hanson philosophy.

For example, adding incentives can make a simple game of catch more productive. "We get more accomplished in three or four minutes of catch," he said.

CLC drills include a challenging one for infielders. One or two teammates stand between the coach throwing the ground ball and the infielder catching it. "This works on their concentration," Hanson stated.

Sometimes, no gloves are used. Just by listening, a coach can tell if a player is using the right technique.

the all-important "hop and throw" method.

"Teaching the game in little parts and it all adds up. We do not need the great plays, we make the routine plays," Hanson said.

Len Bending, a 20-year baseball coach at Hersey High and now an administrator at Round Lake, stressed the need to have pre-game work. This includes checking all equipment, considering the lineup options, stretching, throwing and writing down items for practices.

Coaches agreed players may experience a variety of positions in the early years until about sophomore year in high school.

While infielders receive most of the plays, the outfielders should be made to feel equally important, they said.

All stressed the importance of making the experience fun for the

Although there were flurries in the air and snow on the ground this Saturday morning, baseball season is not that far off for the Lancers, as they began practice this week indoors.

Carmel boys bracing for Benet

The best of the East Suburban Catholic will be invading Carmel High Jan. 27.

First-place Benet comes to Mundelein sporting a 6-0 record and will be facing a Carmel High team ready for the big upset.

"Benet is a very unselfish team that plays defense well and likes to keep the score in the 40's or 50's. They win a lot of close ones," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

Carmel (2-4, 2-14) played well in a loss to Marist 67-59 but only played well for half the time in a 64-48 non-league loss in road games last weekend.

CHS now has two scores in double digits: Eric Ames continues to lead CHS at 11.5 points per game and Mike Graham is at 10.

"He scores a lot for us inside the lane. He has some nice moves and is getting more consistent,' Berg said of Mike Graham.

The Corsairs gave the Marist team a test before falling by home team's late free throws. "I was very pleased with the effort at Marist. We played hard for three quarters and were down only by three with three minutes left when they made free throws," Berg stated.

Carmel was led by Ames with 16 and Mike Graham had 15 points. Marist led 19-12 after one, but Carmel responded with a 22-14 second quarter run.

Ames had 15 points and Mike Graham 9 for Carmel at Hoffman Estates on Saturday. Carmel could not recover from a 16-6 first quarter deficit.

"We played well only half the game," Berg said.

"When they were at a game, they heard a lot of frogs. Frogs used to come out of the dugout," Van Order said. Hence the nickname.

Events in Wausau included Cowbell night, when 1,000 fans received cowbells. He described Athletic Park in Wausau as a mini Wrigley Field. Babe Ruth himself took a few swings there during whistle-stop tour.

"We try to do a lot of giveaway items for the kids. I would like to average 500 a game. We averaged slightly under 150 here last year. I think 500 is a reasonable goal. We will target children in the communities, in Waukegan and all Lake County and west of the interstate," Van Order said.

Van Order believes the talent of baseball is comparable to lower minor leagues. There is also the cost comparison between the Kroakers and Wrigley Field, County Stadium or Comiskey Park.

"Someone taking a family of four to a baseball game can easily spend $150 easy. You can come here, see some good talent on the field, see a professionally run organization and have fun at the ballpark. Here, you leave with change in their pockets. We may lose 10-0, but we want people to say they had fun," Van Order said. "Give me a chance. This is a tough town, a tough community."

Ticket prices will be $4 for adults and $2 for seniors and under 12. The season runs mid-June through August.

lay-in by Joe Carlini (6 points) meant a 54-54 standoff at halftime.

The three-point touch simply was not there for visitors in the second half of Midwest Conference contest. LFC opened a 61-56 lead on a Hoover tip, allowing the announcer to use the clever nickname, "Hoover Maneuver".

The lead was never more than 4 points in the next 10 minutes. A trey by Hayes opened the gap to 6 points and a Williams' long distance shot gave the Foresters a 7-point lead at the 7-minute mark.

The Foresters (8-6, 2-3 conference) pulled away in the final three minutes. Grinell was outscored 14-5 as Carlini ignited the outburst.

The win gave the Foresters a 1-2 record for the week at home. They fell 66-59 to Coe Friday and 85-72 to Ripon earlier.

"We did not play well; we shot horribly," Timm said of the Coe game. Hayes had 12 and Williams 10.

Williams had 20 points and Bongratz 14 in the loss to Ripon. Ripon ripped open a 3-point halftime lead with a 43-33 second half run.
